U. S. BOMBERS HIT NORTHWEST GERMANY

R.A.F. Gives Berlin Fourth Successive Pounding at Night

American Announcement Does Not Specify Immediately Target of Raids But Much-Battered Bremen May Have Been Objective

TWIN ATTACKS ARE STAGED WITH SMALL LOSS

By GLADWIN HILL

London, Nov. 26—(AP)—American heavy bombers struck into northwest Germany today, taking up in daylight the massive aerial offensive against the Nazis after the RAF gave Berlin its fourth straight night of bombing and heavily attacked Frankfurt-am-Main.

The U. S. announcement did not specify immediately the target of the bombers and their fighter escort, but the Bremen radio went off the air, suggesting that much-battered port as an objective.

This was the first operation in a week by heavy formations from the Eighth Air Force, the 18th heavy Allied attack from Britain in November and the ninth for the U. S. Airforce.

In addition to Frankfurt, the German radio said RAF bombers hit Offenbach, leather and chemical goods town six miles east of Frankfurt. Marauding RAF Mosquitos simultaneously struck Berlin.

The twin raids were achieved with small loss. Thirteen British bombers failed to return, compared with 44 the last time Frankfurt was hit on October 22, when expiring Kassel also was smashed in a final blow.

The visit to Berlin meant the Nazi capital had been wakened by bombs on 20 out of 25 nights of November.

The Allied air campaign continued today with a force of bombers sweeping across the channel in mid-morning toward the continent. At midday the Bremen radio abruptly ceased broadcasting, the usual forerunner of an air raid alarm.

Although the Mosquitos—twin-engined craft which carry 500-pound bombs—do not pack the wallop of Britain's four-engined armadas they keep the sirens going in distraugh Berlin.

The attack on Frankfort, big center of the I. G. Farben- Industrie, International Chemical Trust Works, fitted in with three big raids last week on chemical and poison gas component producing factories at Ludwigshafen and Leverkusen.

Frankfurt-Am-Main alho has Germany's biggest truck manufacturing works (Opel), its biggest tire works (Dunlop), and is one of the main railroad centers.

The latest attack on Germany coincided with only a vestige of the Nais' promised reprisals for the Berlin bombings. This was a small-scale incursion which caused a short alert in Londan and little else.

The air ministry communique said mines also were laid in enemy waters last night.

Bad weather prevented observation of the results at Frankfort and Berlin, it added.

A Stockholm dispatch quoted reliable eyewitnesses as reporting that half of Berlin's air raid shelters were hit in the two RAF saturation raids Monday and Tuesday night, bringing about scenes of panic and death.

The Berlin correspondent of the Helsinki newspaper Helsingin Sanomat wrote that the German capital "looks like the remains of a battlefield a long time under strong artillery fire."

★ CONQUEST IN SOUTH PACIFIC IS EXTENDED

Invasion Route to Japan's Marshall Islands Pounded By Army and Navy Warplanes

CARRIER FORCES AIDING

Pearl Harbor, Nov. 26—(AP)—The invasion route into Japan's Marshall islands is being pounded by army and navy bombers while on the nearby Gilberts victorious American ground troops seek out the few surviving enemy defenders and planes from aircraft carriers ward off retaliatory air blows.

These developments, which included the shooting down of 46 Japanese planes by fighters of only one of the several aircraft carrier divisions supporting the Gilbert operations, were contained in the yesterday's advices of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Jaluit, the main Japanese air base in the Marshalls 450 miles northwest of the chief American position on Tarawa in the Gilberts, has been bombed anew by Seventh Airforce Libertors. A spokesman also disclosed that during a carrier plane raid earlier in the week on Mili, another Marshall air base, approximately 200 tons of bombs accurately hit the triangular field.

(Strategic authorities in Washington expressed belief that the Japanese in the Marshalls, exposed by the Gilberts conquest to increasingly heavier bombings, must retreat or die.)

Of the 5,000 or more enemy soldiers estimated to have been encountered on captured Makin, Tarawa and Abemama, "few live Japanese remain in the Gilberts," Admiral Nimitz said.

On Tarawa, in the midst of mopping up operations, engineers worked fast to get its bomb-pitted airfield in operation for even heavier air assaults on the flanked Marshalls.

The incomplete reports on the downing of 46 enemy planes covered operations through Wednesday.

British Troops Consolidate Hold on First Wedge in Enemy's Winter Defense Line

TRANSPORT DESTROYED

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 26—(AP)—British Eighth Army forces have improved their positions in their new bridgehead across, the swollen Sangro river near Italy's Adriatic shore, it was announced today while Allied planes hacked away at the enemy just back of the line.

The British troops consolidated their hold on this first wedge into the German winter defense line despite enemy hill positions overlooking the area.

In support of the ground forces, Allied aircraft destroyed motor transport and enemy guns in the Pescara-Lanciano sector along the coast just above the bridgehead while Mitchell bombers ranged farther up the shore to attack the Port of Ancona. Heavy bombers weer grounded by generally unfavorable weather.

Although enemy reports had mentioned British thrusts with tanks toward the hills command-

Ten and Half Million Sought In New Taxes

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau will continue his battle for approximately ten and a half billion dollars in new taxes despite house passage and indicated senate approval—of a measure trimmed to $2,140,000,000.

He will go before the senate finance committee next week to renew his demands for the heavier revenues which he has said are necessary for footing the war bill and beating down inflation. Although he has avoided comment on the house action in clicing more than $8,000,000,000 from the treasury program, Morgenthau is known to feel that any retreat from the original figure will constitute a serious setback in the administration's hold-the-line fight.

Hence his message to the senators will lay particular stress on the inflationary aspects of high wartime incomes.

PATTON INCIDENT IS TEMPORARILY CLOSED

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—The War Department has temporarily closed the case of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's striking and berating of a shell-shocked army private, pending receipt of a report from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in North Africa.

War Secretary Stimson made the announcement yesterday, emphasizing that the department "has full confidence in his (Eisenhower's) fairness, his justice, and his ability to conduct the affairs of his command in the highest intertst of his troops and his country."

Nine More Jap Ships Sunk By U. S. U-Boats

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—American submarines, hitting hard at Japanese supply lines in the Pacific, have sunk nine more enemy ships, bringing to 505 the number of Japanese vesseils sunk, probably sunk or damaged by United States undersea craft.

The latest report of the submarine activities listed seven medium freighters, one medium tanker and one medium-sied airplane transport vessel as sunk at undisclosed points.

The new sinkings boosted to 745 the number of Japanese vessels sunk by all types of American weapons since the war started.

Report Made By Butler On Goodwill Tour

Latin-American Aid Program Should be Changed, Senator Says

LITTLE GOOD RESULTING

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Describing United States aid to Latin American countries as "naively conceived and badly coordinated x x x boondoggling," Senator Butler (R-Neb.) told the senate today that the program should be changed to one of technical assistance and cultural contact and understanding.

Reporting on his 20,000 mile tour of Central and South American countries, Butler said the present "good neighbor" policy is based on "sentimental dreams x x x which are merely reflections of our own ideals, not of theirs, and is tolerated by the Latins solely because it is accompanied by liberal donations from our treasury."

Declaring that only three of the 20 countries he visited "can fairly be called democracies," Butler said.

"All the rest are dictatorships of the most autocratic sort, and generally militaristic dictatorships at that."

Although official totals have never been announced, the Nebraskan estimated this country has poured six billion dollars into "good neighbor" countries through loans, subsidies, grants and outright gifts.

Butler turned his report over to the Truman and Byrd committees investigating federal spending and the war programs.

Ex-Mayor of Oil City Passes Away

Oil City, Nov. 26—(AP)—Former Mayor James A. Fawcett,82, a pioneer oilman, died yesterday four days after being taken to a hospital.

He was born in Liverpool, England, Aug. 1, 1861, the same year his uncle started one of the first oil refineries here, a short time after Col. Edwin L. Drake brought in the world's first oil well.

In 1892, a little more than a year after Fawcett moved here and with his father became interested in the Crystal Oil Works, Co., the city underwent its greatest catasrophe. Blazing oil swept 18 miles down Oil Creek setting fire to the town, causing the deaths of more than 100 persons and doing damage in excess of $1,000,000.

Fawcett was one of the very few democrats ever to be elected mayor. During World War 1, he was commissioned a major in the army.

BUSINESS INDEX IS AT NEW HIGH PEAK

Pittsburgh, Nov. 26—(AP)—Return of coal production in the Pittsburgh district to a par with the year's best levels was reflected in the business index which climbed to a new high mark during the past week, the bureau of business at the University of Pittsburgh reported.

The seasonably adjusted index for the past week stood at 176.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average. It was 144.1 for the week ended Nov. 6 when most coal mines were idle because of strikes, and 166.8 the week ended Nov. 13.

MINE OWNERS CONFER WITH UNION CHIEFS

First Time in History Soft Coal Operators and Leaders From Entire Country Hold Meeting

HEED APPEAL OF ICKES

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—For the first time in history, soft coal operators and union leaders representing every coal producing section of the country sat down around a table today to perfect a wage contract.

Representatives of coal mines owned by the steel companies ended their holdout and joined the wage negotiations between John L. Lewis and soft coal operators.

Harry Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coal Company, owned by U. S. Steel, and who is the principal spokesman for the "captive" mines, heeded an appeal from Secretary Ickes and showed up at the conference in the interior department.

Virtually all other previously absent operators also joined the conference, so that nearly all of the nation's soft coal tonnage was represented in the new contract talks for the first time.

The "captives" mine about 90,000,000 tons a year.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has agreed with most northern and western coal associations on the basis outline of a wage contract, but would not

No Entries For President From Among Senators

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—For the first time in years the senate, historic stamping ground for presidential candidates, may have no formal entries next year for either major party nomination.

Although the clerk calls the names of a dozen potential dark horses every time he lists a quoroum, circumstances thus far have kept any senator from publicly declaring that he will be a presidential candidate and may combine to keep all of them in the background.

The Democrats, of course, aren't likely to announce anything until they find out what President Roosevelt is going to do about a fourth term, a decision few of them think will be made finally until a few days before the 1944 convention.

Some of the Republicans listed as possible candidates come from states where the Republican governor is already in the running, and others just chuckle at the idea that they are being mentioned.

At least six Republicans are in the dark horse category, including Senators Taft and Burton of Ohio, Vendenberg of Michigan, Revercomb of West Virginia and Lager and Nye of North Dakota.

On the Democratic side, some serious moves have been made to advance Senator Byrd (D-Va) as a potential candidate, and "Byrd-for-president" headquarters have been opened in New Orleans.

Holiday Celebrated Throughout World

By the Associated Press

It took a war to do it, but America's Thanksgiving Day was celebrated throughout the world.

In Chungking, in Italy, in England, in the Balkans, in Perusalem, India, and in almost every place where American uniforms are found, there was some form of observance. On most of the war fronts the holiday bird was roasted after trips of thousands of miles by plane and ship.

President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Day proclamation was read wherever servicemen were gathered, and religious services were held where the war permitted. At home those families who had been able to buy turkeys had the usual holiday dinner.

And the war goes on

Horizontal-Shafted Oil Well Near Franklin is "Blown In"

Franklin, Nov. 26—(AP)—Backers of a revolutionary type horizontal-shafted oil well which was blown in yesterday after 116 months' preparation, watched closely today for the outcome of their project, designed to do the work of an estimated 200 vertical-shafted wells.

Leo Ranney, the designer, said the blast of more than 1,200 pounds of explosives which had been packed into the two horizontal shafts 429 feet below the surface was the longest line of shots ever used in oil drilling.

The 8-foot lengths of 80 per cent high-velocity gelatin and quarter-inch line of TNT were jammed into the 2,350-feet-long shafts to within 400 feet of the underground work chamber located at the bottom of the single vertical shaft.

The work chamber is a concrete room 27 feet in diameter and 55 feet high and the shaft above is eight feet in diameter.

A dull boom and a sharp jolt of the earth occurred when the dynamite was exploded. Hot gas fumes came out of the shaft first, then dynamite gas, which chased away spectators for a time.

Ranney expressed confidence the well would prove a success, after he lowered the shaft car into the work chamber and it came back damp with signs which he said indicated about 1,000 barrels of fluid poured into the chamber in the first hour.

He said he could not determine what percentage of this fluid was oil, but that it could be distinctly heard boiling and bubbling down the shaft. He estimated it might take three or four days to clear out the shaft and definitely measure the result.

The project was begun in July,

Nazis Execute 54 Italians In Little Village

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 26—(AP)—Fifty-four Italian boys and men, residents of the little village of Bellona, near Naples, were massacred by German machine-gunners Oct. 7 because a neighbor had killed a German soldier and wounded another while attempting to save his niece from abduction, according to a British army officer who investigated the incident.

Allied headquarters made public the officer's report of his findings yesterday.

The girl was 21-year-old Maria Cafaro, daughter of Gabriel Cafaro, a naturalied American citizen, living in Rutland, Vt.

Maria, the officer's report said, was seized in her home by three German soldiers as she was preparing supper. They had climbed the orchard wall to approach unobserved. Her screams aroused her uncle, who was in another part of the house.

Grabbing a rifle, he ran to her assistance. When the Germans turned on him he fired, killing one and wounding another. The third fled.

That night the uncle and his son, who had tried to help his cousin, fled to the mountains.

Before dawn German troops battered in the doors of every home in the village. Every man and boy found was hearded into the village square and given two minutes to name the "offenders" and where they had gone.

"A priest and his curate were seized while celebrating mass," the officer's report said. "A dying man was torn from his bed. The doctor and surgeon, the monks in the monastery, were pulled out."

The two minutes passed in silence. The Nazi officer in command picked 54 men and boys and marched them to a nearby quarry.

Violent Deaths In Nation Total 107

By the Associated Press

America today counted 107 violent deaths on Thanksgiving day, with travel restrictions and other war-time factors credited with holding traffic fatalities down to 44 throughout the nation.

The National Safety Council had estimated that, on the basis of 1942, when conditions were generally the same, 70 persons would meet death in automobile accidents.

In 1941, the last peace-time Thanksgiving, 115 persons were killed in traffic mishaps.

Sixty-three deaths over the current holiday resulted from fires, airplane and train mishaps and other accidents, an Associated Press survey showed.

SOVIETS TEAR GAP IN LINE NEAR GOMEL

No Immediate Confirmation of Latest Soviet Success Given Out At Moscow

OPENS ROAD TO MINSK

London, Nov. 26—(AP)—A Berlin broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press said that German troops had evacuated Gomel, key Nazi bastion in White Russia and the only important German-held town east of the Dnieper river.

The announcement, made by the Interantional Information Bureau, Nazi propaganda agency, followed reports from Stockholm that Gomel had fallen to Russian troops which had been hammering at its defenses for the past three weeks.

There was no immediate confirmation last night that Russian troops had torn a gap 37 miles wide in the Nazi lines north of Gomel in a new offensive that brought Soviet forces almost to the banks of the

Out-of-Service Benefits For Ex-Soldiers

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—Bills were introduced in both houses of congress today providing unemployment insurance of from $15 to $25 a week, and social security credits, as out-of-service benefits for America's servicemen and women.

Earlier, Chairman May (D-Ky), of the house military committee had promised swift committee action on a bill heplans to introduce which would provide $300 in mustering-out pay for those holding ranks no higher than army captain or navy lieutenants, senior grade.

The benefits were asked by President Roosevelt, in a message to congress this week.

The federal unemployment payments, continuing up to 25 weeks if the serviceman remains unemployed that long after his discharge, would supplement existing state unemployment insurance benefits. No payments would be made however, for any period in which the serviceman receives federal mustering-out pay or educational allowances.

Identical bills were introduced jointly in the senate by Senators Wagner (D-NY), George (D-Ga) and Clark (D-Mo) and in the house by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the ways and means committee.

City On Coast Of Formosa Attacked

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Allied planes struck within about 650 miles of the Japanese homeland yesterday when approximately 20 planes raided Shinchiku, port city on the northwest coast of Formosa, the Tokyo radio said today.

The raid, unconfirmed by any Allied source, presumably was launched from Allied bases within China. The broadcast claimed that three of the raiders were shot down by Japanese naval fighters.

The island of Formosa, wrested from the Chinese in 1895, lies 90 miles off the east coast of China, some 200 miles north of the Philippine Islands, and only a little more than 650 miles southwest of Kyushu, southernmost island in the Japanese home group.

Formosa was first raided by seven Chinese planes on Feb. 23, 1938, in the first air attack in history on Japanese territory. Eight deaths and 23 injuries, in addition to property damage, were reported to have resulted.

Fourth of Reich's Capital Is Laid Waste By Air Attacks

By JOHN H. COLBURN

Stockholm, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Tidningen said today it had learned that German officials had admitted a fourth of Berlin was destroyed in the RAF's concentrated attacks Monday and Tuesday nights.

The officials refused for military reasons to specify any wrecked areas, the newspaper said, but two Swedish eyewitnesses, one an engineer and the other a military explosives expert, said damage was largely located in the city's center.

Censored reports received over crippled communication lines from neutral correspondents and accounts from eyewitnesses gave this highlight picture of conditions in Berlin:

No bread or milk for sale Thursday in shops; crowds waiting fruitlessly in front of shops for supplies; thousands of workers laboring night and day to clear the streets and get traffic in operation; many homeless people sleeping at night in the debris-littered streets; firemen so busy they have been unable to dig into ruined air raid shelters for bodies.

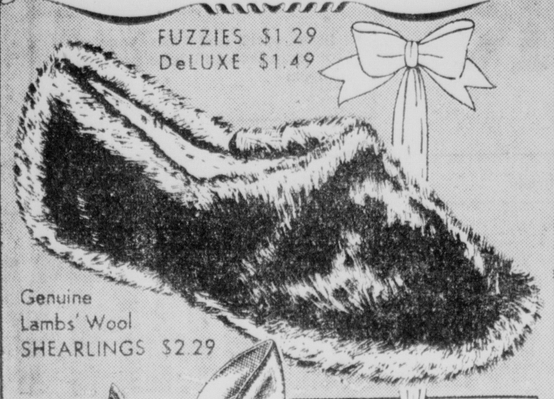

Flight Tour of Marienville Pilot Is Ended With Honors

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Command Station, England—Capt. Thomas M. Hulings, B-17 pilot from Marienville, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hulings, has completed his tour of bombing missions in the ETO. Capt. Hulings' missions have taken him over Germany on fourteen attacks, two into the heavily defended Ruhr, jokingly called the "Happy Valley."

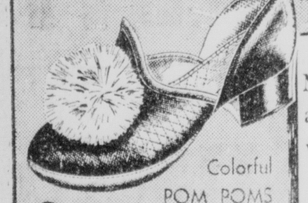

Capt. Hulings has been awarded the air medal, with three oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross, and the oak leaf cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross. These awards represent the successful completion of many tough assignments, however, Capt. Hulings believes the one against Lille, France, in October, 1942, which was his very first raid, was the toughest and most memorable. On this trip the Forts were attacked by the "Abbeville Kids,' the Eighth Air Force's nickname for Goering's famous yellow-nose fighter squadron. As the result of this air battle, five members of his crew received the Purple Heart, and two others the air medal.

CANCEL MEETING

Attention is called to announcement that there will be no meeting of Warren County Ministerial Association next Monday.

TO HAVE MEETING

Following the dramatic presentation at the First Presbyterian church this evening, the young people's dramatic group sponsored by the Christian Youth Council and Presbyterian Activities Club will have a meeting and invite all young people of the community to join with it.

CONSECRATION SERVICE

On Sunday morning, St. Paul's Lutheran church will have its annual consecration service, when pledges for the coming year will be asked in order to facilitate the work of the canvassers. At 7:30 p. m. the same day, the annual Prayer Day service will be held, sponsored by the three missionary units of the church, and with a special program.

DRIVER ARRESTED

LeRoy Brown, of DuBois, will be arrested by Pennsylvania State Police today on a charge of failure to yield half the highway, result of an accident which occurred about 10:30 p. m. Thanksgiving night on the first overhead five miles west of Warren on Route 6. Brown, traveling west, drove over the center of the highway and collided with an approaching machine driven by Ellis Billsborough, Warren RD 3. Neither driver was injured but damage to the two cars is well over $200. Investigating officials said only the high cement wall of the overhead saved Brown's life.

A postcard received from Charles N. MacWilliams, formerly of this city, now located at Venice, Calif., says the weather there is ideal—"no icy roads, nor cold north winds. Just lots of sunshine, flowers, etc. Have had rain only twice since going west in August."

Scilly Will Pay Official Visit to Club

Warren Rotary Club will have the pleasure of welcoming its district governor at its Monday luncheon-meeting in the YWCA activities building and the occasion is particularly anticipated since the official is Allan J. Scilly, of Sheffield, well known to the entire membership.

Long active in affairs of the Sheffield club, Mr. Scilly's election to the post of governor of the 175th District of Rotary International was received with pleasure throughout this section and local members have been anticipating his official visit.

Every member is urged to be present on Monday and all members of the board and committee heads are asked to meet with the governor immediately following the regular luncheon.

In addition, members are reminded to bring their articles for the discarded clothes and rags collection, a box to be provided for this purpose in the YW lobby.

Anniversary Is Planned By Salem EV.

November 1, 1903 is the date when Salem Evangelical church was dedicated and one surviving member of its building committee, Simon Huber, of Clarendon, will participate in celebration of its 40th anniversary on Sunday morning.

Other members of the building committee were William F. Schuster Julius Gollnick and Fred Dason. The pastor under whose ministry the building was erected was the Rev. John C. Ludwig, who was the guest speaker here in 1941 for the young people's 40th anniversary. John Naegeli, 118 Parker street, is the one survivor of the Suday school officers of that day, serving as secretary in 1903.

The congregation was organized "to give religious life and worship to the German people who were then living in the east end of Warren. One of the outstanding laymen and a local preacher of the congregation was Theophulus S. Messner, who was largely instrumental in bringing into the community the Evangelical church to suuply needs of the settlers in that end of town. The large art glass window in the church is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Messner.

Among remaining charter members of the congreation, besides Mr. Huber, are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gertch, of Venturtown, and Mrs. Margaret Dasen, 100 Dobson avenue.

The day will be observed as a Thanksgiving Festival. The roll of membership totalling 102 in 1903 and the present roster will be read. The evening service will be devoted to the Women's Missionary Society's thankoffering service under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Baldensperger. This organization is in its 29th year and one of its first officers is Mrs. street.

Pastor Stephen R. Scheib, who will speak at both morning and evening services, extends in behalf of his congregation a cordial welcome to all interested to attend and enjoy the worship periods.

GIFT SUGGESTIONS

The advertisements in this issue of the Times-Mirror suggest that during the past few weeks we have been besieged by relatives and friends with requests that we list a few trikets we would enjoy receiving for Christmas. Such demands now are rising to an almost shrill crescendo.

This is embarrassing. True, we do not have everything that we want. The car is getting shabby, and surely could use a set of new tires (five, please if you like this idea.) The keys on our typewriter are a bit out of alignment, but we've got rather fond of the old mill, so perhaps we'll pass that up.

There are a few other things that come to mind. For instance, next spring we shall be in the market for some two-leather sport shoes, preferably alligator bottoms and white tops, for which no coupon is in sight even if two-colored shoes weren't off the market.

These and similar wants, unfortunately, may not appeal to our relatives and friends, or may prove hard to find in the stores.

In that case have a couple of other ideas from current advertisements which should offer no difficulties.

A New York-Beverly Hills haberdasher has a hand-painted tie, which in the illustration looks like one of those pillows one wins at a county fair by tossing rings over pins. It is unique. Only one of a kind is made. If you give us that, nobody in the whole wide world will have a tie like ours, and we are certain that all who see us in it will gasp, at the very least, and will always remember the occasion, and us.

One of these ties can be purchased for as little as $25, although for $50 and up it is possible to obtain better art work and, presumably, a higher grade of pigment in the paints used.

From the catalog of the Greatest Sporting Goods Store in the World we learn that de luxe English cigaret lighters are available for either dress or daily use. They possess imported Swiss mechanisms. The 14-karat gold case is engine-turned, and comes in a variety of designs. There is space for monograming on top.

The ladies' model, including tax, costs only $137.50. But this is not for us. There is a gentleman's model, on which also the tax has been figured in, for $148.50.

Incidentally, we have been asked to suggest something that would please the Little Woman. That has been a sticker, but the other day we watched her poring spellbound over the advertisement of a Fifth Avenue (New York) store, wherein was contained a dignified announcement that one Arnaud (to paraphrase the name) is available for interviews.

We quote from the discreet little notice, which was headed "the Arnaud Hour."

"In the privacy of a studio, Arnaud will study your features and personality . . . he will give consultation lessons to his clients . . . he will create individual coiffeurs from the informal to the most glamorous . . . he will make an exciting, drastic change in your looks and personality. Appointment by letter only. 50.00 an hour."

(No sordid dollar sign, please note. This appeal is to persons of refinement and delicacy.)

Arnaud, we understand, does not cut hair or wave it or do anything like that. Not, at least, in person during the Arnaud Hour. His services are more cultural and inspirational. It is his function to tell our wives how they can become new women, exciting women, glamorous women—women who will make their husbands feel almost like unintentional bigamists.

There are suggestions for our family. We hope you like them.

WE WANT TO KNOW

We do not know exactly what is the inside story behind the alleged liquor shortage. We hope that some of the investigations now under way and projected will bring out the pertinent facts.

Because, in offset to what we do not know, there is this that we do know: Whoever or whatever is behind the liquor situation is playing squarely into the hands of the Prohibitionists, and could easily bring back the conditions from which repeal delivered the United States. And that we must not have.

OUR FIRST DUTY

There can be little disagreement with this portion of R. J. Thomas' recent address to a rally of his United Automobile Workers in Detroit:

"I would rather die of starvation than have a brother killed by a Nazi bullet. The most important thing for a union to do now is to end the war as quickly as possible, and the only means of realizing this goal is to abide by our no-strike pledge."

While gas companies bicker and claim gas is scarce and that they are having a hard time to get an adequate supply, the Clinger Oil and Gas Company well near Tidioute is blowing 10,000,000 feet into the air every day. State officials will investigate.

Walter Davidson, 16-year-old boy, suffered gunshot wounds while out hunting for rabbits yesterday. With other boys he was hunting near Torpedo when a gun was discharged. Several pellets struck him and after their removal at the hospital he was able to go home.

A delightful reunion of the former students of Edinboro Teachers College was held last evening at the YWCA. Dinner was served and then President Crawford of the college and Mr. Emory, musical director, spoke. Their talks were of interest and proved highly pleasing.

Water has been turned into the Phillips' ice ponds at Venturetown and all is in readiness for Jack Frost to arrive and turn the water into ice. The big ice houses have been put in shape to receive the crop when it is cut.

A crew of men from the Hammond Iron Works has been sent to Farmers Valley to erect tankage at the new plant of the refining company there. This group of tanks will be the first of a number to be erected in the territory from which the company draws its supply of crude.

In 1933

A resident of Jackson street called at the Times-Mirror office this morning with the information that the road to Smith's Corners is blocked with drifted snow. The farmers cannot get through and hope for a visit from the snow plow.

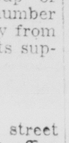

Announcement is made that the Alpha Gamma Sigma, Inc., will hold its Christmas party in the Conewango Club on the evening of December 25. The affair promises to be a delightful one and a good orchestra and other features will make the party one long to be remembered.

Between 175 and 200 attended the Odd Fellows rally held with Clarendon Lodge last evening. Four lodges in the east end of the county took part and music was a feature of the evening. A lunch was served.

Sunday classes will be confirmed at both the Warren and Kinzua Episcopal churches. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Ward will be present at both services and deliver the ceremonies.

A party for members and friends of the Joseph Warren Chapter of the D. A. R. held last evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, Market street, last evening, proved very delightful. The affair was a benefit bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. T. C. Schuyler and Miss Evelyn Johnson.

Give him a crisp WAR BOND for a CHRISTMAS present to be remembered. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Just why the Army Air Force has kept its women flyers under censorship wraps for so long is one of those minor capital mysteries.

More than a year ago, the Women's Auxiliary Ferrying Service (WAAFS) was active but very little was said about it. At Camp Davis, N. C., nearly 200 WASPS (Women's Airforce Service Pilots), an outgrowth of the WAAFS) are doing some of the toughest combat flying known—all women trained under the direction of well-known Aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran.

Before many weeks, there will be at least 500 women flyers in the WASPS. About 600 more will be in training at Sweetwater and Houston, Texas and 1,000 additional will be awaiting training assignments. That accounts for more than one half of the estimated 4,000 eligible women flyers in the country and constitutes one of the most surprising service records in the war.

After a lot of off-the-record queries, I've come to the conclusion that the reluctance to give flying dames their due was:

(1) Fear that they wouldn't make good and that the Army Air Forces would get the bird for even inaugurating the program;

(2) An innate reluctance on the part of the men, both pilots and ground crews, to concede that women flyers were capable of handling the Air Force's gruelling non-combatant assignments.

IN view of this, Jacqueline Cochran and Nancy Harkness Love, director of the WASPs, said not a word. However, it is now safe to talk a little. The girls have proved themselves; the men have accepted them.

A few days ago I talked to a veteran fighter pilot back from the South Pacific. He had been down to Camp Davis on a lecture mission.

"I had about the same opinion of women pilots that some taxi drivers have of women motorists," he said. "Then one day, I was standing on the sands north of Camp Davis, watching anti-aircraft drill. One of those little baby carriages was towing a target sleeve 300 yards behind and a pattern of ack-ack 100 yards square was being poured into it. That pilot had a dirty assignment, I know. A konkout, a loss of flying speed, a sudden down or up draft, and that little plane would have been in the soup. When it was over, I breathed easier and said 'nice flying' to the officer who was with me. He said: "Yeah, pretty good for a 22-year-old girl who left flying school in June."

"I was dumbfounded."

THE WASPs are women 18 to 34 years of age. They have to have at least 35 solo hours before they can apply for training. At Davis, there are stenographers, school teachers, chemists, newspaperwomen, bookkeepers and a few just plain housewives.

They not only tow targets, they do tricky night flying to provide practice for the searchlight crews, dodge all over the sky for flack aiming drills; and in general everything there is to be done in non-combat service. They live in barracks, but unlike the WACs they aren't a part of the Army. They get $150 a month base pay in training and $250 in service, out of which they pay barracks rental and officers' mess fee. Their off-duty uniforms are in the making and will be snappy and government-issued.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — There is no dramatic medium more suited than motion pictures to the projection of fantasy, and no business that has been more frightened of the word than the movie business—until recently.

What goes on in many of the studies today is literally out of this world. There are excursions into the hereafter, glimpses into the supernatural, and gay, whimsical, or tender ghosts, some of them holding communion with the living.

For a long time, probably because some forgotten fantasy was filmed and promptly died at the box-office, Hollywood has steered clear of any theme exploring death. The hereafter except in standard horror movies, was deemed as risky as boy-meets-girl was sure-fire.

IF "Death Takes a Holiday" made a beautiful picture, it could be dismissed as an exception. If "The Ghost Goes West" made a tremendous hit, it could be passed off with, "Yes, but that's comedy." Later it was "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" that kept the turnstiles clicking, and more recently, "Heaven Can Wait,"—both prompting the usual shrugged "Ah, but they're comedies."

The out-of-this-world pictures today aren't all comedies. Some of them, like "The Canterville Ghost," are American doughboys mix with a tired old spectre (Charles Laughton) who haunts the English castle where they're billeted.

"It Happened Tomorrow" is a comedy. A reporter gets tomorrow's newspaper today—and he gets it from an aged newspaper friend who, as he doesn't know, is dead.

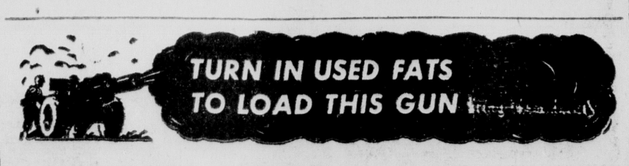

But "A Guy Named Joe" isn't a comedy. Spencer Tracy plays the role of an American flier, killed in the war, who rides the fighting air lanes guiding other pilots. There's humor in it, but it's no comedy. It's uplift, and inspiration.

AND then there's "Outward Bound." They're changing the title, mainly because the first film version, with Leslie Howard and Doug Fairbanks jr., fine as it was, confirmed the local fear of fantasy at the box-office. And the story has been placed in a wartime setting, but it is still the story of an ocean liner whose passengers, seemingly all alive, make the astounding discovery that they're dead and bound — outward.

Nobody seems afraid of "Outward Bound" this time. The cast includes John Garfield, Paul Henreid, Sydney Greenstreet (who plays his first sympathetic role in reels), Eleanor Parker, Dennis King, Edmund Gwenn, and George Coulouris (playing another of his very unsympathetic roles).

If it's the beginning of a cycle, now is the time for it. A war picture doesn't necessarily concern itself with battles.

SHEFFIELD NEWS

Sheffield, Nov. 25.—The Rotary-luncheon was presided by the president, L. B. Jones, and presented Major Richard Taylor as the guest speaker. Major Taylor has spent the past two years in the Canal Zone. The honored seniors to the luncheon were Miss Annabelle Snyder and Frank Uylon. Robert Miller of Clairton was present at the meeting.

The Homebuilders Sunday school class was the guest of Mrs. P. J. Finerty Tuesday evening. The devotionals were conducted by Miss Eva Brown. The business meeting was presided by the president, Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor. Plans were made for the Christmas party December 14, at the home of Mrs. Archie Brown. Members are asked to be on time as a six-thirty dinner will be served. There will be no exchanging of gifts but the members are asked to turn the money in for the White Gift Fund. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. P. J. Finerty and Mrs. Claude Landers.

The Woman's Club will meet at the Red Cross rooms Monday evening for surgical dressings.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whittaker have returned from a visit with their son, T. P. Whittaker, and family, at Brandon, Vermont.

Miss Eva Brown is spending the holiday at the home of her brother, Herbert, and family, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hilda Reed and Miss Lucille Baynes left Wednesday for Rochester, N. Y., to spend the rest of the week.

Miss Orpha Martin is spending Thanksgiving in Jamestown.

Misses Mary Ann Christian and Joyce Cedarlof, Cadet Nurses attending Edinboro State Teachers' College, are home for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Martin are spending Thanksgiving in Brookville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman have received word that their sons, Claude and James, have arrived in England.

Corporal LaVerne Schuler, stationed at Drew Field, Tampa, Fla., returns tonight after a three-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schuler, Mill street.

Surgical Dressing Group Is in Need Of Women Workers

Despite the usual rush and bustle that heralds the busy holiday season in Warren, the women workers of the Red Cross surgical dressing groups are urged to save time for the work that must be done.

Today ends the three-day holiday from the task of rolling surgical dressings and on Monday the real job should start off with a bang. You are urged now to budget your hours in such a way that you'll have some to spare for Red Cross accomplishments. 30,000 surgical dressings is the new quota and they are urgently needed by fighting men everywhere.

Don't wait until the last minute —Monday is the day. Try to be on hand the first of the week. Let's get the job done immediately!

We Present You—Saturday Morning—With
THE ALEXANDER RASHID CO. 1943 DISPLAY OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Tomorrow you'll find that our store has taken on a completely different look—in keeping with the spirit of this most sacred and most significant of seasons. It is our hope that you will approve of our effort, and will enjoy this large display and will make it yours.

We are confident that you will like the time-saving arrangements we have tried to make. Order, Clarity, Convenience, Moderate Prices have been our watchwords—making it easier for you to select every gift, and easier for us to serve you. For this reason we have drawn this ad the way you see it.

For Suggestions . . . Reminders . . .

You see all around these words a column-wide space filled with suggested gifts . . . Gifts for Mary, Gifts for John . . . Gifts for Junior and His Sister, Gifts for Baby and Gifts for the HOME. In other words, if you read this list, you will find GIFTS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY. You will notice, they are mostly useful gifts this year—as you want them. And when you come in you will find a wide range of prices.

Be sure to do one thing now, if we may suggest, and that is: Keep this ad for the gift-ideas we have drawn up for you. Or cut the columns and keep them together. They will come in very handy and will be very helpful. Use our lay-away department.

Number of Salvage Drives to Be Staged in Warren County During Month of December

The month of December promises to be the most active Salvage month in Warren County since the attack on Pearl Harbor, nearly two years ago, according to W. T. Corbett, Chairman of the Warren County Salvage Committee. Mr. Corbett summarized the various December drives as follows:

"USED CLOTHING"

The first war-time drive for used clothing is already under way in the schools of the Borough and of the County. A carton will be placed in each school. Students are requested to bring in used clothing from their own homes and from the homes of neighbors who have no children, on Wednesday morning, December 1. The clothing will be sorted, dry-cleaned, and shipped to the National Headquarters. Both H. L. Blair, County Superintendent, and John G. Rossman, Borough Superintendent, have addressed letters to every teacher in the County requesting cooperation in this urgent matter.

In many of the ravaged countries millions of people are freezing for want of clothing. The Clothing Drive is nation-wide, and our government hopes to secure fifty million garments. The following types of garments are desired:

Both good clothing and rags which you wish to give to the Salvage Division of the War Production Board. Used clothing such as overcoats, suits, sweaters, underwear, pajamas, gloves, overalls, dresses, cotton or rayon materials such as dresses, skirts, blouses, shirts, pillow cases, useless towels, draperies, blankets, slip covers. In short, almost any type of clothing or rags, except those listed in the following group:

Hats, caps, shoes, leather gloves, neckties, garters, rubbers, overshoes, galoshes, slippers, collars, belts, spats, leather leggings, rubber coats, rubber boats, masquerade costumes, corsets, veils, diapers.

State Highway trucks will collect all clothing on Friday, December 3. Teachers in one-room schools, where the amount collected is small, may if possible, deliver their collection to a larger nearby school where the truck will pick it up.

W. T. Corbett also requested all clubs to place cartons in their lobbies for men's used clothing, and all churches to put notices on their bulletin boards announcing both the Used Clothing campaign and the Pearl Harbor Paper Drive.

"WASTE PAPER"

The County-wide waste paper drive is already well under way. The schools are the chief instruments of collection in thir instance also, and a goal of one hundred tons of paper has been set. Letters have gone out to all Salvage Chairmen in the other communities of the county and pledges of support have been received vit telephone from Youngsville, Sheffield, Russell, North Warren, and Pleasant Township. Paper collected will be used in the war effort to augment the nation's rapidly dwindling supply of material for the paper mills. The entire proceeds will be to the Red Cross to help in the work of aiding American prisoners of war in Japanese and German hands, with food, medical supplies and other necessaries.

Mr. Corbett also stressed the fact that many offices have tons of waste paper in the form of ald records that should be turned in. The United Lumber Company has already contributed about 600 pounds and the Warren Land Office, about 300 pounds. There is no doubt that many tons of paper could be secured in the form of old records that have gathered dust for many years.

Mr. Corbett asked the Times to correct an impression held in some quarters, regarding prizes for the Waste Paper Drive in the schools. The cash prizes are to go not to the individual pupil, but to the individual schools; and will be based on the gross poundage turned in by the school, divided by the number of students in that school, to give a per capita average.

"TIN CANS"

A recent tin can report received from Colley S. Baker, Executive Secretary for Pennsylvania, showed that only eight of the Counties of the State exceeded or equalled their October tin can quotas. Out of these eight counties in the entire state, four are in Region 8, in which Warren County is included. These four counties were Clarion, Erie, McKean and Warren.

"IRON AND STEEL SCRAP"

The following message was received from Edward L. Solomon, Chairman of Waste Dealers Committee of the State Council of Defense:

"The Waste Dealers Committee wishes to state that the sortage of iron and steel scrap that confronts the steel industry will seriously affect the war effort.

If cast iron and steel grades are not collected, there will be shutdowns in the armament manufacturing plants in Pennsylvania.

The Committee further believes that the newspapers should be asked to stress these facts."

Behind-the-Scenes Technicians Equally Important to Success of Productions

Directors of "Heaven Can Wait," comedy-fantasy scheduled to be presented on December 9 and 10 at the Woman's Club, are fortunate in having a splendid group of craftsmen and women to assist in making the performance possible.

In producing any play, the stage setting, lights, properties and costumes are as important to the desired effect as the ability of the actors and actresses. "Heaven Can Wait" taxes the ingenuity of each and every person working to achieve a successful show.

Despite the Christmas rush, Lester Criswell found time to design the settings for the play and will surpervise construction whenever he has spare time. In his absence, William Dashem will head the committee. "Bill" is also standing by to handle the required sound effects. Mr. Criswell is assisted by Ann G. Blackman, Anne Krantz, Frances O'Neil, Richard Blair and Fred Printz, Jr. The group is busy now building and painting flats.

When a member of the cast needs a certain article during the course of the show, Helen McClure, assisted by Bertha Minnelli and Edith Sellin, sees to it that such properties are handy. The property committee is vital to any production. The costumes for "Heaven Can Wait" are in charge of Marion MacDowell, with Joan Lavery lending a helping hand.

In command of the lights for the players' production is "Mac" Kinander, who spent several weeks during the summer as a stage technician at a prominent theatre on the eastern seaboard. "Mac" will continue his studies in Chicago this winter. He has many new and unusual ideas in regard to lighting effects and the result of his additional training will be a professional touch for "Heaven Can Wait."

To lighten the burden for Betty Rice and Betty Field, Fern Mostert has assumed the responsibilities of stage manager while Joan B. Hoye has been active as program advisor since tre play was selected and cast.

This airview of Tarawa, one of the Gilbert Islands invaded by Americans, shows one of the narrow atolls in this group. Photo was taken during a previous U. S. air raid on the island.

Makin-Tarawa Attack Forges a Pincers

CHURCH NOTES

Dr. Harold C. Warren will use as his sermon topic for Sunday morning "A Great Anniversary of Our Church." Music will be entirely of Mendelssohn compositions, Jackson Barrell's organ solos being the Finale from "The Third Symphony" and Adagio from "Sonata No. 1"; the choir singing "How Lovely Are the Messengers" and Russell Hammar's singing as a tenor solo, "If With All Your Hearts" fro "The Elijah". The Church of Tomorrow will be conducted by the young people with Charles Sires presiding and Rowell Hoff giving the prayer.

Dr. J. A. Galbraith, district superintendent from Jamestown will occupy the pulpit at the 10:30 a. m. service in First Methodist church Sunday and will conduct a brief conference session afterward.

BIRTHS

At Maternity

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Morrell, 21 South South street, are parents of a son born Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Rydgren, 204 Madison avenue, are parents of a son born Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Pierce, of Youngsville, are parents of a daughter born Thanksgiving morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tudor, Warren RD 3, are parents of a son born Thanksgiving evening.

WHAT'S A TUFFET?

A tuffet was an Anglo-Saxon measure for corn, shaped like a peach basket. Two pecks equaled one tuffet and two tuffets equaled one bushel. Farmers often used the tuffet as a stool while munching their frugal meal of curds and whey.

Chapter 10

ALF reached down to the floor and picked up a worn piece of steel wool. "I'm fed up with this dog-chasing," he told Pete. Slowly, he began rubbing an already over-polished section of tubing.

"I imagine so," Pete agreed. "I've been here three weeks, tonight, and I'm sick of it, plenty."

"I been trying to quit," Alf confessed. "For a month, now, I been trying to quit. I had a good job before I came here and I can go back to it. . . ."

"Where?"

"Over to the state Home for the Insane. I was engineer. Had to fire up the big steam boilers for the power plant. Not much pay, but I got my room and board and had plenty of time to fish. I got three hours off, afternoons, three days a week . . . and I always had something to do."

"But the people," Pete put in, "the crazy people. Didn't they worry you? I mean working around them . . . and all?"

"Not a bit. They were crazy, all right. But not half as crazy as the gang in this plant."

"Well, why didn't you quit?"

"I couldn't, buddy. I just ain't been able to make the grade . . . yet."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean, it ain't no cinch, quitting this place. I saw the foreman: he sent me to the supervisor. Supervisor sent me to Personel. Rollins told me I'd have to present my case to the 'Human Relations Board,' who look the case over from all angles and vote on it."

"Well?"

"THE 'Board' only meets the third Friday in every other month . . . and finally when they took up my case they decided that I didn't show enough reason to quit.

"But, I wasn't licked, yet. A guy over in Hydraulics told me I could appeal the case to the night superintendent and just as soon as they get some new 'Appeal Forms' printed, the super says he will okay one for me. . . ."

"Well, when will the forms be printed?"

"Just as soon as 'Methods and Control' division makes up their minds on the size and they are approved by Personnel and the general manager."

"How long will that take?"

Alf put a finger to his lips, reached over and touched Pete on the shoulder. "Don't tell a soul," he cautioned, "but a big girl in Methods and Control told me the 'Termination Request Form,' was about fifteen from the top of the stack and that her boss would get to it in a week or so." He grinned owlishly. "So," he continued, "I may get to quit before long, after all!"

Pete stared at Alf, curiously. Was the old man feeble-minded, he wondered? Had constant association with the inmates of the State Home rendered him overly-imaginative. Surely, a man didn't have to go through such red tape merely to quit a job.

He looked at Alf again. No, the old man was serious. His eyes were clear and intelligent. Evidently, it was a problem . . . to quit this plant.

At that moment, the lunch whistle blew. Pete hurried with the crowd who were making a mad rush toward the big cafeteria, but his eyes were fastened on the Paint Shop entrance. Kitty appeared with an inch long strip of adhesive under her chin and Pete rushed to her side, forcing his way through the stream of laughing, joking, jostling workers.

"I'll bet," Pete said, his head close to Kitty's ear, "that I know what they're got for lunch."

"What?"

"Carrots and peas and peas and carrots."

"Right," Kitty said, then, "You're getting to be an old-timer, aren't you. Kind of know your way around here, by now?"

"Sure." Pete smiled. How beautiful she was, he thought. And she was as friendly as a little pup and the kind of a girl who, somehow, understood a fellow; appreciated his ambitions, his ideals.

They had reached the cafeteria and had taken their places in the long line of workers, shoving their trays along the gleaming chromium rails, toward the food. In a surprisingly short time they were served and made their way toward a corner table which was not overly-crowded.

Many of the workers called out to them as they passed.

"That's Pete Neil," one said, his voice covering the entire group of twelve at his table.

"SO, what?" A voluptuous red-head asked, her mouth half-filled with carrots and peas.

"He's the guy who told 'Big Boy' where to head in . . . you know, the guy who made a sap out of Rollins and got put on dog-chasing."

"Yeah," put in another, "And he's got the guts to stick with it, too."

"That's good enough for me," stated the red-head.

While she ate, Kitty studied a blank new cross-word puzzle in the book she had pulled from her hip pocket.

"Puzzles . . . puzzles, always puzzles." Pete complained, good-naturedly. "I wish you'd put that puzzle away and talk to me for a while!"

Election of Grange Held At Gathering

At the regular meeting of Pleasant Grange, held Wednesday evening in the grange hall, Fritz Reider was chosen to the office of master for the coming year, with Glenn Kiser as overseer and the following completing the slate.:

Lecturer, Helen Green; steward, Susie Beebe; Asst. steward, Mr. Wertz; chaplain, Ethel Buchanan; treasurer, Mary Owens; secretary, Gladys Schwab; gatekeeper, Violet Dailey; Ceres, Mary Wilcox; Pomona, Alice Pierce; Flora, Alice Dailey. lady assistant steward, Victoria Wertz; member of executive committee, Claire Wilcox; pianist, Etta Hamblin; matron of juvenile unit, Alice Kitelinger; insurance solicitor, Walter Schumann.

The program for the evening consisted of an historical play by the juvenile grange and three selections, "The Waltz You Saved for Me", "Gashaus Polka" and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas", by Marilyn Green, saxophone; Joan Wertz, accordian, and Lois Peterson, guitar; also piano solo, "Country Gardens", Joan Wertz.

CAR ON FIRE

The emergency truck of the Central Fire Department was called out yesterday at 1:11 p. m. when a car owned by Mrs. Howard Shawkey was on fire. Little damage was done.

BATTLERS INTERRUPTED

A fellow who had indulged in some drinkin' licker developed pugilistic tendencies on Hickory street Wednesday night. Police were called and the melee had ceased on their arrival and the battlers toddled off homeward.

CAR WAS HIT

The automobile of Emil H. Lampe parked near the postoffice on Third avenue was hit with a car driven by a local doctor. The car was damaged to an extent of $25. The doctor did not stop and was brought to police headquarters where he arranged for a settlement.

WAS QUIET DAY

Warren yesterday observed the holiday in a most staid manner with all business places closed and most of the citizenhy staying close to their own fireside. The weather was delightful and there were many automobiles out on the high ways. Many visited with relatives in nearby owns and the city bore a rather deserted appearance. No accidents or untoward incidents marked the day locally and all in all it was a quiet day.

WARREN PLANT HAS RECORD

The Warren Plant of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., one of the newest of the company's rapidly expanding family, won the month's contest for the best attendance record, it has been announced in the company magazine, the BEAM. Warren employees attained the unusually good record of 97.2 perfect attendances. All absences, including those for sickness and other excusable causes are counted against the record. Eighteen other Sylvania plants participated in the contest. Manager of the Warren plant is Ralph Beal. Manufacturing Superintendent is Art Chapman.

Tin Can Salvage Program

Edward Howaniec, Grade 8, won the first place in the tin can collection contest being held in the school for the week ending November 19. Further, his room containing grades 7 and 8, won the first place among the rooms of the school in the number of cans collected by all pupils of that room. Grades 7 and 8. Mr. John Gaynor, teacher, collected 484 cans. Grades 3 and 4, Miss Barbara Llewelyn, teacher, placed second. Others who collected large numbers of cans were Shirley Cochran, Betty Plubell, and Nellie Koniak. This activity is part of the campaign launched under the auspices of the McKean County Salvage Committee.

Poster Contest

Union 302 of the J. G. Curtis Leather Company tannery in Ludlow is offering seven prizes for excellence in a poster contest on the subject of deer hide conservation. $3 goes to the first prize winner, $2 to the second, and in addition five prizes of $1.00 each have been offered. Grades 5, 6, 7, and 8 are taking part. The committee from the Union is headed by Mr. Arthur Swanson of Ludlaw. Gloves, vests, and pacs are made from these hides for use by U. S. armed forces in the northern climates. The contest will close Wednesday, November 24th. Mr. Swanson will see that all hides turned in are properly used.

Adds a Patch

The school paper, The Crazy Quilt, sponsored by Miss Macie Johnson, teacher, and publisher under the auspices of the Senior English class is being put out this week as a Thanksgiving edition. Among many other things it contains a complete listing of about 150 men and women of the armed services who come from the Ludlow and Hamilton township area.

Honor Roll

The following pupils won places on the schools scholastic Honor Roll: Grade 1—No record during first period for Honor Rolls. Army and Navy Set for Big Clash on West Point Gridiron

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 26—(AP)—Victory through the air is the newest theme of the military minded so it is no surprise that the experts dissecting tomorrow's Army-Navy football game in advance are arguing along the same lines.

Tiny Hal Hamburg, Navy's pigskin mortar, has tossed 79 aerials in the Middie's eight games this fall and 34 of them have reached their mark for 503 yards. In most of the debates he is conceded to be the best passer in tomorrow's semi-secret clash.

But the Army's statistics are the more imposing. With Glenn Davis and Tom Lombardo doing the flinging, the Cadets tried the air lanes 122 times in their nine games and 62 were completed for 914 yards.

That's an average of 101.6 yards a game through the air while Hamberg, who does virtually all the Navy's first-string tossing, has a mean average of 64 yards a game.

The experts however, figure that Army's previous weakness against the overhead attack will crop up once more as the Middies try for their nineteenth victory in the 44th game of the series. Army has won 22 of the games in the past and three have been tied.

Tomorrow's game, involving two of the east's best clubs, will be played in comparitive secrecy of 10,00 fans who qualified under the governmental order that admission be restricted to residents in a 10-mile radius.

Football's Second Wartime Season is Nearing Its Close

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Football's second wartime season closes in appropriate martial surroundings tomorrow with the servicemen privileged to enjoy two of the year's best bets almost without civilian attendance.

When the Army and Navy meet for the eastern championship, the only folks present will be military academy cadets and the gentry living within 10 miles of West Point.

The sailors of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station will be the only spectators when the Notre Dame Irishmen try to hurdle their tenth and final obstacle to a national title.

There wasn't any ban on crowds Thanksgiving Day when Philadelphia turned out 60,000 to watch Penn outscramble Cornell, 20-14. Thirty-two thousand watched Texas qualify for a Cotton Bowl bid and the southwest crown by whipping Texas Aggies, 27-13. The losers earned an Orange Bowl date with L. S. U.

When Colgate stopped Brown, 21-14, on a blocked punt that bounced 34 yards for a touchdown, 10,000 were present. A like number saw Bucknell ruin Franklin and Marshall's perfect season, 21-13. Tulsa drew 15,000 as the Hurricane barbecued the Arkansas Razorbacks, 61-0.

Other noteworthy holiday returns showed South Carolina knocking Wake Forest out of post season consideration, 13-2; Maryland stopping V. M. I., 21-14; North Carolina Pre-Flight slapping North Carolina State, 21-7; Fort Riley winning over Kansas, 22-7; St. Mary's defeating Utah, 34-0, and Oklahoma Aggies nosing out Denver, 7-6.

Orange Bowl Tries a New Plan for Bids

Miami, Fla., Nov. 26—(AP)—The Orange Bowl is coming up this time with something new—a rematch of a regular season football game between the Texas Aggies and Louisiana State University.

Texas A. and M. whipped L.S.U., 28 to 13, when they met October 9, and in the game touchdown-minded Orange Bowl sponsore saw possibilities of a repeat performance on New Year's Day which could give the Miami crowd of 30-odd thousand its money's worth.

As a departure from usual bowl procedure, sponsors announced the signing of both Orange Bowl teams immediately after they had lost their regular-season finales.

News of Louisiana's bid was given out last Saturday following the Tigers' 27 to 0 loss to Tulane, and yesterday the Aggies hardly had left the field where they were trounced by Texas, 27 to 13, before the invitation and acceptance were made puplic.

Had A. and M. whipped Texas, the Orange Bowl would have been on the hunt again, because the game decided the Southwestern Conference championship, and the title-winner usually is bound to go to the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Herb Pennock Offered Phils Managership

Philadelphia, Nov. 26—(AP)—With Herb Pennock still undecided about accepting an offer to become general manager of the Phillies, Bob Carpenter, the club's new president, meets his field manager for the first time today.

Baseball-wise Freddy Fitzsimmons and Carpenter, 28, youngest club head in the major leagues, will discuss "routine matters," the club office announces.

Meanwhile, Carpenter confirmed that Pennock, manager of the Boston Red Sox farm system, is the man he wants as general manager.

Pennock, former American League pitching ace, said he has not yet decided whether to accept, but added, "I am extremely flattered by the offer." Tom Yawkey, Red Sox owner, has given permission to accept the new post if he desires.

Opportunity For Youths Is Offered Soon

Youths of Warren county are offered a most excellent opportunity to become members of the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and to wear Silver Wings by the United States. Boys of 17 are needed for training in the air corps. At the present time there is no dearth of airmen but the boys of 17 are given an examination, awarded Silver Wings and are not called for service until they are 18 years of age. This gives them an opportunity to finish their schooling and if need be they can secure a six months extension.

After that they are sent to Florida for a months basic training; then to college for five months; then to pre-flight schools and then to a primary school which is followed by basic and advanced air training. This constitutes a liberal education and lucky is the youth who enlists in this branch. There is also the thought that perhaps the war may end and the boys will not be needed. This is rather alluring as the boys stand to be drafted when they are 18 years of age.

Representatives of this recruiting are in town today arranging for examinations to be held at the Elk's Club next Friday, December 3. Every boy of 17 is the county would do well to viist the Elks Club on that date and take the examination and parents will do well to encourage their boys to get into this most cherished service of Uncle Sam.

Postmaster Gives Dates For Mailing

Postmaster J. K. Bell issues the following reminder regarding last-minute mailing dates for Christmas gifts and greeting cards:

To those who did not heed the advice of the Post Office Department and failed to mail their Christmas Gifts and Greetings Cards in Nov. Postmaster Bell issues this final warning. The attached last minute mailing schedule, for parcels, letters and cards, to various sections of the country must be observed in order to assure their delivery by Christmas Day.

To avoid delay in delivery the Postmaster advises all mailers to wrap packages accurately, address plainly, insure all valuable shipments. Send greeting cards first class mail. Mark gift packages "Do Not Open Until Christmas.

WAC Recruiter Spends Day Here

WAAC Lieutenant Clarke spent Wednesday afternoon at Metzger-Wright's interviewing many young girls who were interested in joining the WACS. This is Lieutenant Clarke's first visit to the store but from now on she will be at a specially constructed booth on the first floor every Wednesday from ten in the morning until closing time at five o'clock. Women and girls who join now will not be called into service until after Christmas.

Lieutenant Clarke hoped that every woman and girl in Warren would go to the Library Theater during Friday and Saturday of this week to see the picture "Women at War", the technicolor short about the Women's Army Corps. It gives a true picture of the life in the WAC training camp as it was taken at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, the first WAC training camp.

While at Metzger-Wright's Wednesday, Lieutenant Clarke was attended by a Guard of Honor of Girl Scouts of the Warren District.

Dailey and Koebley Rites Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Koebley, 108 Myrtle street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lorraine Lucille, to Pfc. Paul Edward Dailey, U. S. Army Air Corps medical detachment, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Dailey, 539 West Seventh street, Erie.

The marriage took place at Blessed Sacrament rectory in Erie on September 6, 1942. They were married by the Rev. John Gorman, now assisting at the Cathedral in Erie. Mrs. Gale W. Cook, sister of the bride, and Robert Dailey, brother of the bridegroom, attended the couple.

Mrs. Dailey was graduated from Warren High School in the Class of 1939 and from St. Vincent's training school for nurses in 1943, and is now nursing in Warren General Hospital.

Pfc. Dailey was graduated from Cathedral Prep and attended Cathedral College for two years. Before entering the service he was employed by Erie newspapers, is now stationed somewhere in England, attached to the Eighth Air Force.

Social Events

MISSIONARY SPEAKER

The missionary societies of the First Lutheran church invite all women of the church and interested friends to join in a meeting to be held Tuesday. Rev. Edwin E. Moll, of Pittsburgh, will speak to the group at 4:00 p. m., a tureen supper will be enjoyed at 5:30 and the annual thankoffering meeting will follow immediately.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF ROCKWELL CLASS

It is very important that every member of the Rockwell Bible Class turn out for the meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in Trinity Memorial parish house, since the work on layettes for the Visiting Nursing Association must be completed at this time.

FRIDAY EVENING MUSIC CLUB SESSION

Members of the Friday evening Music Club will hold their regular session at the studio-home of Mrs. Allie Russell, 205 Pennsylvania avenue, east, this evening, with a musical discussion preceding the program and projection of famous paintings to follow.

LUDLOW

Miss Mabel Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Hannah Peterson, who has recently been inducted into the Women's Army Corps, was the guest of honor at a party given at the Lutheran church on Tuesday evening, the sixth. There were over one hundred in attendance. A program was given with Gustav Olson, superintendent of Sunday schools, acting as toastmaster. Patriotic songs were sung by the group followed by "Auld Lang Syne", played by the entire school orchestra directed by Miss Mary Catherine Maxwell, music supervisor. Following this, little Winifred Jones presented Miss Peterson with a corsage. Mr. Olson made mention of the splendid service Miss Peterson has performed in the community. She has been primary superintendent of the Sunday school for the past eleven years and did several years of teaching before that. She has been a member of the Lutheran choir for years and has actively participated in the Luther League, at present being its vice president. She has also been an active member of the Red Cross and is a committee member of the Brownie Scout troop.

The fourth number on the program was a song sung by the following young girls trained by Miss Peterson: Susan Anderson, Mary Anna Connelly, Delores Johnson, Joanna Johnson, Vivian Nelson and Katherine Swanson. The program continued with a patriotic piano solo by Robert Johnson, nephew of the guest of honor, followed by "God Bless America," sung by the choir director, Mrs. Emil Nelson. Mrs. Raymond Shaffer, church organist, played a piano solo. The choir sang a favorite song, "Lyssna." Rev. Carl Gronquist presented the honored guest with a gift from the Sunday school teachers, a purse of money from the community, and a Testament from the Lutheran Brotherhood. The program concluded with another number by the orchestra, "The Army Air Corps." A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed later.

Miss Tillie Olson and friends entertained at a dinner on Sunday, the fourteenth, for Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Berg, of Warren. Mrs. Berg, a recent bride, is the daughter of Mrs. A. L. Larson, and was the former Miss Marian Larson. Mrs. Berg is a teacher in the public school system of Warren. The honored guests were given crystal. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Berg, Miss Edith Larson, Mrs. A. L. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ewanson, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Algot Swanson, Mrs. Wales Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Olson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Olson, Tillie Olson, of Ludlow, and Miss Ebba Gustafson, of Kane.

Mrs. Evert Johnson and Miss Violet Swanson were hostesses to the Lutheran Circle on Wednesday, the seventh, at the home of the former. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Walter Cox, and the business meeting followed. There were twenty-three in attendance and one guest, Mrs. Lavinia Steiner, of Eldred. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Mrs. L. B. Connelly, chairman of Ludlow Girl Scouts, entertained the general and troop committees and leaders at her home on Monday evening, the eighth. Committees were appointed for the coming year and a general business meeting was held.

The Martha Society of the Lutheran church met at the church parlors on Wednesday, the tenth, with Mrs. Chas. Lantz and Mrs. A. L. Larson as hostesses. A report was made that $30.75 was earned by the organization in thesale of Christmas cards. The year's income was given away to charitable and missionary projects. The following program was given: Reading, Mrs. C. O. Johnson; vocal duet, Mrs. Emil Nelson and Mrs. Mollie Mattison; reading, Mrs. Freda Swanson.

Arthur Christenson and Albert Bramstang were hosts to the Lutheran Brotherhood on Thursday evening, the eleventh, at the church. The meeting was conducted by Leroy Johnson. A business meeting was held followed by a program. A reading was given by C. W. Swanson. Vocal solos by Carl Swanson and a reading by John Johnson were given appropriate to Armistice Day. Lunch was served at the close of the program.

The American Legion Auxiliary were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. J. Carlson on Tuesday, the ninth. The meeting was led by the president, Mrs. L. B. Connelly Mrs. C. J. Carlson, delegate, gave an interesting report of the council meeting held at Kane. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. James A. Connelly.

The community of Ludlow has been much saddened by the death of Eugene Huber who has always been active in community affairs. He was one of the first Boy Scout leaders and many young men in Ludlow will remember his interest and influence.

The high-school orchestra is forging ahead with new members added to those of last year under the direction of Miss Mary Catherine Maxwell. They are preparing for a winter concert. They are also hoping to purchase uniforms so sponsored a tag day this week in which they were successful in getting over seventy dollars toward their goal.

The high school students are taking full advantage of the dancing classes taught by Jack Gaynor and Miss Maxwell. The French club had their monthly meeting at the the home of Miss Macie Johnson on Tuesday evening, the sixteenth. The Dramatic Club will meet on the twenty-third.

The Brownie Scouts met at Scout Headquarters Tuesday evening with their leaders, Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. Leroy Johnson. The Intermediates met with their leaders, Miss Catherine Bellucci and Miss Peiper on Monday. The Senior Girl Scouts are busy on an art project with their leaders, Mrs. Walter Cox and Mrs. Melvin McCleary assisted by Mrs. Julius Swanson.

Mrs. Adolph Johnson has announced that the October quota for the Red Cross has arrived and that the Red Cross rooms will be open to workers on Monday, the twenty-second.

Mrs. Edwin Peterson of Cleveland has been a guest of her parents for the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Carles Carlson. Mrs. Peterson has given up her apartment in Cleveland and left on Tuesday, the ninth for Jacksonville, Florida, to join her husband who is in naval training there. She stopped en route at Washington to visit her brother, Ensign Raymond Carlson.

In Air WACS

Jane Swanson, graduate of Sheffield High School in the Class of 1940 and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mull Swanson, Conneaut, O., enlisted in the Woman's Army Air Forces on November 8 was sworn in at Erie November 12 and expects to be called anytime for basic training. She has until recently been employed in Conneaut.

Posters Will Be Distributed By Boy Scouts

"You Can Have Silver Wings" is the title of the poster being distributed Saturday by Boy Scout Dispatch bearers. The poster this week comes from the office of War Information.

The Scouts will deliver these posters to merchants in Warren for display in their windows in the next two weeks.

The copy of the poster reads "You Can Have Silver Wings" if you are 17 and less than 18, you may be qualified for membership in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and for future training as an aviation cadet with the U. S. Army Air Forces. Apply at any Aviation Cadet examining board or any U. S. Army Recruiting Station. Men employed in essential war industries or engaged in agriculture will not be accepted. Men interested in Naval Aviation Cadet Training may apply at any navy recruiting station. This announcement is made with the approval of the joint Army and Navy personnel board."

Boy Scouts who are distributing posters Saturday are as follows: from the First Methodist church troop 9, Wilmer Latshaw, Alan Schuler, Richard Schuler, Charles the First Nazarine church troop 48, Paul Moore, Ronald Fitzgerald and Arnold Swanson.

AT SYLVANIA IT'S DAUGHTERS 3 TO 1

Despite learned scientific dissertations to the effect that more boys are born in time of war, this month's record at Sylvania Electric Products Inc., leading radio tube and lighting manufacturers, seems to prove the opposite.

Of the twenty-four blessed events announced in this month's Sylvania company magazine, eighteen were girls and six were boys so that "It's daughters three to one." Perhaps the fact that 80 per cent of the Company's employees are women (a proportion of four to one) may have something to do with it.

Russians Rip Gap In Line Near Gomel

upper Dnieper and appeared to have cracked wide open the road to Minsk.

This new drive, mounted in the Propoisk area 60 miles north of German-held Gomel, carried Soviet forces approximately 30 miles westward in three days, the bulletin declared. More than 2,000 Germans were killed in the three-day advance, 180 villages were liberated and enormous quantities of war gear were captured, the Russians said.

Minsk, close to the pre-war frontier of northern Poland, today was but 160 miles west of the Red army spearhead.

In another successful drive, second only in importance to the advance north of Gomel, the Russians announced they had cut the Zhlobin - Kalinkovichi railroad northwest of Rechitsa, capturing the towns of Posovo, Zherd, Ostankovichi and Koreni.

CONEWANGO LEAGUE

A 929 game in the second kept the Reeds from a white-washing at the hands of the McClures in the Conewango League Wednesday evening. Logan had a 227 game and Reed came through with a 206, for the losers. MacDonald, substituting for Langdon, had one of his best matches of the season, although it will not count in the averages. He had a 249 for high single and 622 for high total. The team totals:

Reeds	726	929	803—2458

Horizontal-shafted Oil Well Near Franklin Is "Blown In"

1942. After the vertical shaft had been drilled, there was a delay of several months, due to difficulty in getting equipment, before starting the long sidearm shafts. This drilling was completed last month.

The well is located about two miles north of Franklin and only 20 miles from the world's first oil well drilled by Col. Edwin L. Drake in 1859. Drake's well came in at 59 feet. Ranney's is in the first Venango sand, a proven oil bed.

The companies interested in the venture are: South Penn of Pittsburgh; Forest Oil Co. and Kendall Refining Co., Bradford; Quaker State Oil Co. and the Pennzoil Co. of Oil City; Pennsylvania Refining Co., Butler; Freedom Oil Co., of Freedom; Canfield Oil Corp., of Cleveland; Alliance Oil Corp., of New York City; United Refining Co., Warren; Franklin Creek Refining Co., Franklin.

TIMES TOPICS

TO ACCOMMODATE HUNTERS

The office of County Treasurer Gibson will be kept open Saturday afternoon for the accommodation of hunters desiring to secure licences at that time.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

There was a good turnout Wednesday evening for the union Thanksgiving service held in First Methodist church by the Warren Council Ministerial Association, with its president, Rev. J. C. Wygant, preaching the sermon to an audience that completely filled the auditorium and a portion of the balcony. Rev. Ernest Ruary read the Scripture, Rev. Elmer Landerdahl offered prayer and choir and organist of First church provided the musical selections. A generous offering will be applied to the fund which provides new testaments for those going into service.

ing the bridgehead, which yesterday was reported nearly a mile and a half deep, official announcements today gave no information of any further advance.

Brisk activity was reported inland at the backbone of Italy where other Eeighth Army units captured some high ground dominating the town of Castel di Sangro from the northwest. Germans previously were reported dynamiting and setting fire to the town, presumably preparing to abandoning it.

A front line dispatch from Associated Press War Correspondent Daniel De Luce quoted Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery as declaring the new bridgehead now was "very firmly held and secure."

Thanksgiving Day activity on the Fifth Army front on the western half of the line was limited to two violent 15-minute artillery bombardments against targets behind the enemy's lines as well as normal patrolling.

While rain continued to fall and mist reduced visibility throughout the battle area, an air force statement declared persistent bombing had kept closed to traffic for a month the three main railways running down the Italian peninsula to the battlefront.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces had crossed the most formidable obstacle yet in forcing the Sangro, but still were confronted by difficult enemy positions in the hills ringing the valley.

Conquest in South Pacific Extended

The total may well be much larger when the reports are received from other aircraft carrier groups.

For the same period, the carrier division eporting sustained losses of only three fighters and a torpedo bomber. In one engagement, the carrier fighters bagged 16 of 20 intercepted Zeros without losing a plane, the spokesman said.

Southwest of the Gilberts in the northern Solomons other American forces expanded to six miles along the west-central coast of Bougainville the beachhead they have carved out since Nov. 1 on Empress Augusta Bay.

GAS ESCAPED

At 11:15 this morning the emergency truck of the Fire Department was called to the Stein store, on Pennsylvania avenue, west, where gas escaping from the bulb in a fluorescent lamp bulb made an odor in the store. Investigation revealed the fact that no damage was done.

sign until the agreement was on a national basis. The Southern Coal Producers Association, though represented in the talks, has held out against the form of agreement.

The interior department said all associations and operators who received Ickes' telegram of Wednesday asking their attendance had complied with the request.

The seven coal producers associations have expressed a willingness to pay the same weekly wage, $57.06, that is embodied in the ickes-Lewis working agreement covering the period of government operation but oppose computing the wage in a manner that would pay for underground travel time as a part of the working day. The southern group represents more than 125,500,000 tons annually, and Lewis was reported to have made this group's inclusion a condition of signing a contract.

U. S. BOMBERS HIT NORTHWEST GERMANY

R.A.F. Gives Berlin Fourth Successive Pounding at Night

American Announcement Does Not Specify Immediately Target of Raids But Much-Battered Bremen May Have Been Objective

TWIN ATTACKS ARE STAGED WITH SMALL LOSS

By GLADWIN HILL

London, Nov. 26—(AP)—American heavy bombers struck into northwest Germany today, taking up in daylight the massive aerial offensive against the Nazis after the RAF gave Berlin its fourth straight night of bombing and heavily attacked Frankfurt-am-Main.

The U. S. announcement did not specify immediately the target of the bombers and their fighter escort, but the Bremen radio went off the air, suggesting that much-battered port as an objective.

This was the first operation in a week by heavy formations from the Eighth Air Force, the 18th heavy Allied attack from Britain in November and the ninth for the U. S. Airforce.

In addition to Frankfurt, the German radio said RAF bombers hit Offenbach, leather and chemical goods town six miles east of Frankfurt. Marauding RAF Mosquitos simultaneously struck Berlin.

The twin raids were achieved with small loss. Thirteen British bombers failed to return, compared with 44 the last time Frankfurt was hit on October 22, when expiring Kassel also was smashed in a final blow.

The visit to Berlin meant the Nazi capital had been wakened by bombs on 20 out of 25 nights of November.

The Allied air campaign continued today with a force of bombers sweeping across the channel in mid-morning toward the continent. At midday the Bremen radio abruptly ceased broadcasting, the usual forerunner of an air raid alarm.

Although the Mosquitos—twin-engined craft which carry 500-pound bombs—do not pack the wallop of Britain's four-engined armadas they keep the sirens going in distraugh Berlin.

The attack on Frankfort, big center of the I. G. Farben- Industrie, International Chemical Trust Works, fitted in with three big raids last week on chemical and poizon gas component producing factories at Ludwigshafen and Leverkusen.

Frankfurt-Am-Main alho has Germany's biggest truck manufacturing works (Opel), its biggest tire works (Dunlop), and is one of the main railroad centers.

The latest attack on Germany coincided with only a vestige of the Nais' promised reprisals for the Berlin bombings. This was a small-scale incursion which caused a short alert in Londan and little else.

The air ministry communique said mines also were laid in enemy waters last night.

Bad weather prevented observation of the results at Frankfort and Berlin, it added.

A Stockholm dispatch quoted reliable eyewitnesses as reporting that half of Berlin's air raid shelters were hit in the two RAF saturation raids Monday and Tuesday night, bringing about scenes of panic and death.

The Berlin correspondent of the Helsinki newspaper Helsingin Sanomat wrote that the German capital "looks like the remains of a battlefield a long time under strong artillery fire."

Invasion Route to Japan's Marshall Islands Pounded By Army and Navy Warplanes

CARRIER FORCES AIDING

Pearl Harbor, Nov. 26—(AP)—The invasion route into Japan's Marshall islands is being pounded by army and navy bombers while on the nearby Gilberts victorious American ground troops seek out the few surviving enemy defenders and planes from aircraft carriers ward off retaliatory air blows.

These developments, which included the shooting down of 46 Japanese planes by fighters of only one of the several aircraft carrier divisions supporting the Gilbert operations, were contained in the yesterday's advices of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Jaluit, the main Japanese air base in the Marshalls 450 miles northwest of the chief American position on Tarawa in the Gilberts, has been bombed anew by Seventh Airforce Libertors. A spokesman also disclosed that during a carrier plane raid earlier in the week on Mili, another Marshall air base, approximately 200 tons of bombs accurately hit the triangular field.

(Strategic authorities in Washington expressed belief that the Japanese in the Marshalls, exposed by the Gilberts conquest to increasingly heavier bombings, must retreat or die.)

Of the 5,000 or more enemy soldiers estimated to have been encountered on captured Makin, Tarawa and Abemama, "few live Japanese remain in the Gilberts," Admiral Nimitz said.

On Tarawa, in the midst of mopping up operations, engineers worked fast to get its bomb-pitted airfield in operation for even heavier air assaults on the flanked Marshalls.

The incomplete reports on the downing of 46 enemy planes covered operations through Wednesday.

British Troops Consolidate Hold on First Wedge in Enemy's Winter Defense Line

TRANSPORT DESTROYED

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 26—(AP)—British Eighth Army forces have improved their positions in their new bridgehead across the swollen Sangro river near Italy's Adriatic shore, it was announced today while Allied planes hacked away at the enemy just back of the line.

The British troops consolidated their hold on this first wedge into the German winter defense line despite enemy hill positions overlooking the area.

In support of the ground forces, Allied aircraft destroyed motor transport and enemy guns in the Pescara-Lanciano sector along the coast just above the bridgehead while Mitchell bombers ranged farther up the shore to attack the Port of Ancona. Heavy bombers weer grounded by generally unfavorable weather.

Although enemy reports had mentioned British thrusts with tanks toward the hills command-

Ten and Half Million Sought In New Taxes

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau will continue his battle for approximately ten and a half billion dollars in new taxes despite house passage and indicated senate approval—of a measure trimmed to $2,140,000,000.

He will go before the senate finance committee next week to renew his demands for the heavier revenues which he has said are necessary for footing the war bill and beating down inflation. Although he has avoided comment on the house action in clicing more than $8,000,000,000 from the treasury program, Morgenthau is known to feel that any retreat from the original figure will constitute a serious setback in the administration's hold - the - line fight.

Hence his message to the senators will lay particular stress on the inflationary aspects of high wartime incomes.

PATTON INCIDENT IS TEMPORARILY CLOSED

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—The War Department has temporarily closed the case of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's striking and berating of a shell-shocked army private, pending receipt of a report from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in North Africa.

War Secretary Stimson made the announcement yesterday, emphasizing that the department "has full confidence in his (Eisenhower's) fairness, his justice, and his ability to conduct the affairs of his command in the highest intertst of his troops and his country."

Nine More Jap Ships Sunk By U. S. U-Boats

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—American submarines, hitting hard at Japanese supply lines in the Pacific, have sunk nine more enemy ships, bringing to 505 the number of Japanese vesseils sunk, probably sunk or damaged by United States undersea craft.

The latest report of the submarine activities listed seven medium freighters, one medium tanker and one medium-sied airplane transport vessel as sunk at undisclosed points.

The new sinkings boosted to 745 the number of Japanese vessels sunk by all types of American weapons since the war started.

Latin-American Aid Program Should be Changed, Senator Says

LITTLE GOOD RESULTING

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Describing United States aid to Latin American countries as "naively conceived and badly coordinated x x x boondoggling," Senator Butler (R-Neb.) told the senate today that the program should be changed to one of technical assistance and cultural contact and understanding.

Reporting on his 20,000 mile tour of Central and South American countries, Butler said the present "good neighbor" policy is based on "sentimental dreams x x x which are merely reflections of our own ideals, not of theirs, and is tolerated by the Latins solely because it is accompanied by liberal donations from our treasury."

Declaring that only three of the 20 countries he visited "can fairly be called democracies," Butler said.

"All the rest are dictatorships of the most autocratic sort, and generally militaristic dictatorships at that."

Although official totals have never been announced, the Nebraskan estimated this country has poured six billion dollars into "good neighbor" countries through loans, subsidies, grants and outright gifts.

Butler turned his report over to the Truman and Byrd committees investigating federal spending and the war programs.

Ex-Mayor of Oil City Passes Away

Oil City, Nov. 26—(AP)—Former Mayor James A. Fawcett,82, a pioneer oilman, died yesterday four days after being taken to a hospital.

He was born in Liverpool, England, Aug. 1, 1861, the same year his uncle started one of the first oil refineries here, a short time after Col. Edwin L. Drake brought in the world's first oil well.

In 1892, a little more than a year after Fawcett moved here and with his father became interested in the Crystal Oil Works, Co., the city underwent its greatest catasrophe. Blazing oil swept 18 miles down Oil Creek setting fire to the town, causing the deaths of more than 100 persons and doing damage in excess of $1,000,000.

Fawcett was one of the very few democrats ever to be elected mayor. During World War 1, he was commissioned a major in the army.

BUSINESS INDEX IS AT NEW HIGH PEAK

Pittsburgh, Nov. 26—(AP)—Return of coal production in the Pittsburgh district to a par with the year's best levels was reflected in the business index which climbed to a new high mark during the past week, the bureau of business at the University of Pittsburgh reported.

The seasonably adjusted index for the past week stood at 176.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average. It was 144.1 for the week ended Nov. 6 when most coal mines were idle because of strikes, and 166.8 the week ended Nov. 13.

MINE OWNERS CONFER WITH UNION CHIEFS

First Time in History Soft Coal Operators and Leaders From Entire Country Hold Meeting

HEED APPEAL OF ICKES

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—For the first time in history, soft coal operators and union leaders representing every coal producing section of the country sat down around a table today to perfect a wage contract.

Representatives of coal mines owned by the steel companies ended their holdout and joined the wage negotiations between John L. Lewis and soft coal operators.

Harry Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coal Company, owned by U. S. Steel, and who is the principal spokesman for the "captive" mines, heeded an appeal from Secretary Ickes and showed up at the conference in the interior department.

Virtually all other previously absent operators also joined the conference, so that nearly all of the nation's soft coal tonnage was represented in the new contract talks for the first time.

The "captives" mine about 90,-000,000 tons a year.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has agreed with most northern and western coal associations on the basis outline of a wage contract, but would not

No Entries For President From Among Senators

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—For the first time in years the senate, historic stamping ground for presidential candidates, may have no formal entries next year for either major party nomination.

Although the clerk calls the names of a dozen potential dark horses every time he lists a quorum, circumstances thus far have kept any senator from publicly declaring that he will be a presidential candidate and may combine to keep all of them in the background.

The Democrats, of course, aren't likely to announce anything until they find out what President Roosevelt is going to do about a fourth term, a decision few of them think will be made finally until a few days before the 1944 convention.

Some of the Republicans listed as possible candidates come from states where the Republican governor is already in the running, and others just chuckle at the idea that they are being mentioned.

At least six Republicans are in the dark horse category, including Senators Taft and Burton of Ohio, Vendenberg of Michigan, Revercomb of West Virginia and Lager and Nye of North Dakota.

On the Democratic side, some serious moves have been made to advance Senator Byrd (D-Va) as a potential candidate, and "Byrd-for-president" headquarters have been opened in New Orleans.

Holiday Celebrated Throughout World

By the Associated Press

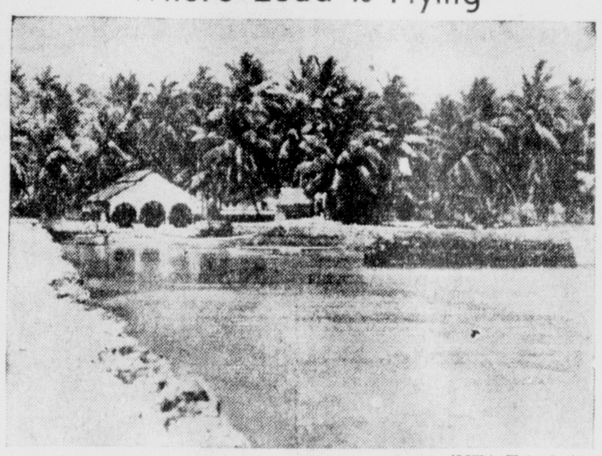

It took a war to do it, but America's Thanksgiving Day was celebrated throughout the world.

In Chungking, in Italy, in England, in the Balkans, in Perusalem, India, and in almost every place where American uniforms are found, there was some form of observance. On most of the war fronts the holiday bird was roasted after trips of thousands of miles by plane and ship.

President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Day proclamation was read wherever servicemen were gathered, and religious services were held where the war permitted. At home those families who had been able to buy turkeys had the usual holiday dinner.

And the war goes on

Horizontal-Shafted Oil Well Near Franklin is "Blown In"

Franklin, Nov. 26—(AP)—Backers of a revolutionary type horizontal-shafted oil well which was blown in yesterday after 116 months' preparation, watched closely today for the outcome of their project, designed to do the work of an estimated 200 vertical-shafted wells.

Leo Ranney, the designer, said the blast of more than 1,200 pounds of explosives which had been packed into the two horizontal shafts 429 feet below the surface was the longest line of shots ever used in oil drilling.

The 8-foot lengths of 80 per cent high-velocity gelatin and quarter-inch line of TNT were jammed into the 2,350-feet-long shafts to within 400 feet of the underground work chamber located at the bottom of the single vertical shaft.

The work chamber is a concrete room 27 feet in diameter and 55 feet high and the shaft above is eight feet in diameter.

A dull boom and a sharp jolt of the earth occurred when the dynamite was exploded. Hot gas fumes came out of the shaft first, then dynamite gas, which chased away spectators for a time.

Ranney expressed confidence the well would prove a success, after he lowered the shaft car into the work chamber and it came back damp with signs which he said indicated about 1,000 barrels of fluid poured into the chamber in the first hour.

He said he could not determine what percentage of this fluid was oil, but that it could be distinctly heard boiling and bubbling down the shaft. He estimated it might take three or four days to clear out the shaft and definitely measure the result.

The project was begun in July,

Nazis Execute 54 Italians In Little Village

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Nov. 26—(AP)—Fifty-four Italian boys and men, residents of the little village of Bellona, near Naples, were massacred by German machine-gunners Oct. 7 because a neighbor had killed a German soldier and wounded another while attempting to save his niece from abduction, according to a British army officer who investigated the incident.

Allied headquarters made public the officer's report of his findings yesterday.

The girl was 21-year-old Maria Cafaro, daughter of Gabriel Cafaro, a naturalied American citizen, living in Rutland, Vt.

Maria, the officer's report said, was seized in her home by three German soldiers as she was preparing supper. They had climbed the orchard wall to approach unobserved. Her screams aroused her uncle, who was in another part of the house.

Grabbing a rifle, he ran to her assistance. When the Germans turned on him he fired, killing one and wounding another. The third fled.

That night the uncle and his son, who had tried to help his cousin, fled to the mountains.

Before dawn German troops battered in the doors of every home in the village. Every man and boy found was hearded into the village square and given two minutes to name the "offenders" and where they had gone.

"A priest and his curate were seized while celebrating mass," the officer's report said. "A dying man was torn from his bed. The doctor and surgeon, the monks in the monastery, were pulled out."

The two minutes passed in silence. The Nazi officer in command picked 54 men and boys and marched them to a nearby quarry.

Violent Deaths In Nation Total 107

By the Associated Press

America today counted 107 violent deaths on Thanksgiving day, with travel restrictions and other war-time factors credited with holding traffic fatalities down to 44 throughout the nation.

The National Safety Council had estimated that, on the basis of 1942, when conditions were generally the same, 70 persons would meet death in automobile accidents.

In 1941, the last peace-time Thanksgiving, 115 persons were killed in traffic mishaps.

Sixty-three deaths over the current holiday resulted from fires, airplane and train mishaps and other accidents, an Associated Press survey showed.

SOVIETS TEAR GAP IN LINE NEAR GOMEL

No Immediate Confirmation of Latest Soviet Success Given Out At Moscow

OPENS ROAD TO MINSK

London, Nov. 26—(AP)—A Berlin broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press said that German troops had evacuated Gomel, key Nazi bastion in White Russia and the only important German-held town east of the Dnieper river.

The announcement, made by the Interantional Information Bureau, Nazi propaganda agency, followed reports from Stockholm that Gomel had fallen to Russian troops which had been hammering at its defenses for the past three weeks.

There was no immediate confirmation last night that Russian troops had torn a gap 37 miles wide in the Nazi lines north of Gomel in a new offensive that brought Soviet forces almost to the banks of the

Out-of-Service Benefits For Ex-Soldiers

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—Bills were introduced in both houses of congress today providing unemployment insurance of from $15 to $25 a week, and social security credits, as out-of-service benefits for America's servicemen and women.

Earlier, Chairman May (D-Ky), of the house military committee had promised swift committee action on a bill heplans to introduce which would provide $300 in mustering-out pay for those holding ranks no higher than army captain or navy lieutenants, senior grade.

The benefits were asked by President Roosevelt, in a message to congress this week.

The federal unemployment payments, continuing up to 25 weeks if the serviceman remains unemployed that long after his discharge, would supplement existing state unemployment insurance benefits. No payments would be made however, for any period in which the serviceman receives federal mustering-out pay or educational allowances.

Identical bills were introduced jointly in the senate by Senators Wagner (D-NY), George (D-Ga) and Clark (D-Mo) and in the house by Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the ways and means committee.

City On Coast Of Formosa Attacked

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Allied planes struck within about 650 miles of the Japanese homeland yesterday when approximately 20 planes raided Shinchiku, port city on the northwest coast of Formosa, the Tokyo radio said today.

The raid, unconfirmed by any Allied source, presumably was launched from Allied bases within China. The broadcast claimed that three of the raiders were shot down by Japanese naval fighters.

The island of Formosa, wrested from the Chinese in 1895, lies 90 miles off the east coast of China, some 200 miles north of the Philippine Islands, and only a little more than 650 miles southwest of Kyushu, southernmost island in the Japanese home group.

Formosa was first raided by seven Chinese planes on Feb. 23, 1938, in the first air attack in history on Japanese territory. Eight deaths and 23 injuries, in addition to property damage, were reported to have resulted.

Fourth of Reich's Capital Is Laid Waste By Air Attacks

By JOHN H. COLBURN

Stockholm, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Tidningen said today it had learned that German officials had admitted a fourth of Berlin was destroyed in the RAF's concentrated attacks Monday and Tuesday nights.

The officials refused for military reasons to specify any wrecked areas, the newspaper said, but two Swedish eyewitnesses, one an engineer and the other a military explosives expert, said damage was largely located in the city's center.

Censored reports received over crippled communication lines from neutral correspondents and accounts from eyewitnesses gave this highlight picture of conditions in Berlin:

No bread or milk for sale Thursday in shops; crowds waiting fruitlessly in front of shops for supplies; thousands of workers laboring night and day to clear the streets and get traffic in operation; many homeless people sleeping at night in the debris-littered streets; firemen so busy they have been unable to dig into ruined air raid shelters for bodies.

Flight Tour of Marienville Pilot Is Ended With Honors

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Command Station, England—Capt. Thomas M. Hulings, B-17 pilot from Marienville, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hulings, has completed his tour of bombing missions in the ETO. Capt. Hulings' missions have taken him over Germany on fourteen attacks, two into the heavily defended Ruhr, jokingly called the "Happy Valley."

Capt. Hulings has been awarded the air medal with three oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross, and the oak leaf cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross. These awards represent the successful completion of many tough assignments, however, Capt. Hulings believes the one against Lille, France, in October, 1942, which was his very first raid, was the toughest and most memorable. On this trip the Forts were attacked by the "Abbeville Kids,' the Eighth Air Force's nickname for Goering's famous yellow-nose fighter squadron. As the result of this air battle, five members of his crew received the Purple Heart, and two others the air medal.

CANCEL MEETING

Attention is called to announcement that there will be no meeting of Warren County Ministerial Association next Monday.

TO HAVE MEETING

Following the dramatic presentation at the First Presbyterian church this evening, the young people's dramatic group sponsored by the Christian Youth Council and Presbyterian Activities Club will have a meeting and invite all young people of the community to join with it.

CONSECRATION SERVICE

On Sunday morning, St. Paul's Lutheran church will have its annual consecration service, when pledges for the coming year will be asked in order to facilitate the work of the canvassers. At 7:30 p. m. the same day, the annual Prayer Day service will be held, sponsored by the three missionary units of the church, and with a special program.

DRIVER ARRESTED

LeRoy Brown, of DuBois, will be arrested by Pennsylvania State Police today on a charge of failure to yield half the highway, result of an accident which occurred about 10:30 p. m. Thanksgiving night on the first overhead five miles west of Warren on Route 6. Brown, traveling west, drove over the center of the highway and collided with an approaching machine driven by Ellis Billsborough, Warren RD 3. Neither driver was injured but damage to the two cars is well over $200. Investigating officials said only the high cement wall of the overhead saved Brown's life.

A postcard received from Charles N. MacWilliams, formerly of this city, now located at Venice, Calif., says the weather there is ideal—"no icy roads, nor cold north winds. Just lots of sunshine, flowers, etc. Have had rain only twice since going west in August."

IF YOU want to buy or sell read the classified ads. everyday.

Parish Will Mark Loyalty Sun., Nov. 28

Trinity Memorial Episcopal church will observe "Loyalty Sunday" on November 28 and, in common with all other Episcopal parishes in the United States, will receive pledges of its communicants.

The every-member-canvass is in charge of a forward-in-service committee, whose members asked that all parishioners bring their pledges to the Sunday morning service. The rector, the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, will take for his topic "Spiritual Priorities" for this first Sunday in Advent.

Attention is called to the fact that the pledge service at St. Luke's in Kinzua has been postponed one week to December 5.

Scilly Will Pay Official Visit to Club

Warren Rotary Club will have the pleasure of welcoming its district governor at its Monday luncheon-meeting in the YWCA activities building and the occasion is particularly anticipated since the official is Allan J. Scilly, of Sheffield, well known to the entire membership.

Long active in affairs of the Sheffield club, Mr. Scilly's election to the post of governor of the 175th District of Rotary International was received with pleasure throughout this section and local members have been anticipating his official visit.

Every member is urged to be present on Monday and all members of the board and committee heads are asked to meet with the governor immediately following the regular luncheon.

In addition, members are reminded to bring their articles for the discarded clothes and rags collection, a box to be provided for this purpose in the YW lobby.

Anniversary Is Planned By Salem EV.

November 1, 1903 is the date when Salem Evangelical church was dedicated and one surviving member of its building committee, Simon Huber, of Clarendon, will participate in celebration of its 40th anniversary on Sunday morning.

Other members of the building committee were William F. Schuster Julius Gollnick and Fred Dason. The pastor under whose ministry the building was erected was the Rev. John C. Ludwig, who was the guest speaker here in 1941 for the young people's 40th anniversary. John Naegeli, 118 Parker street, is the one survivor of the Suday school officers of that day, serving as secretary in 1903.

The congregation was organized "to give religious life and worship to the German people who were then living in the east end of Warren. One of the outstanding laymen and a local preacher of the congregation was Theophulus S. Messner, who was largely instrumental in bringing into the community the Evangelical church to suuply needs of the settlers in that end of town. The large art glass window in the church is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Messner.

Among remaining charter members of the congreation, besides Mr. Huber, are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gertch, of Venturtown, and Mrs. Margaret Dasen, 100 Dobson avenue.

The day will be observed as a Thanksgiving Festival. The roll of membership totalling 102 in 1903 and the present roster will be read. The evening service will be devoted to the Women's Missionary Society's thankoffering service under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Baldensperger. This organization is in its 29th year and one of its first officers is Mrs. street.

Pastor Stephen R. Scheib, who will speak at both morning and evening services, extends in behalf of his congregation a cordial welcome to all interested to attend and enjoy the worship periods.

GIFT SUGGESTIONS

The advertisements in this issue of the Times-Mirror suggest that during the past few weeks we have been besieged by relatives and friends with requests that we list a few trikets we would enjoy receiving for Christmas. Such demands now are rising to an almost shrill crescendo.

This is embarrassing. True, we do not have everything that we want. The car is getting shabby, and surely could use a set of new tires (five, please if you like this idea.) The keys on our typewriter are a bit out of alignment, but we've got rather fond of the old mill, so perhaps we'll pass that up.

There are a few other things that come to mind. For instance, next spring we shall be in the market for some two-leather sport shoes, preferably alligator bottoms and white tops, for which no coupon is in sight even if two-colored shoes weren't off the market.

These and similar wants, unfortunately, may not appeal to our relatives and friends, or may prove hard to find in the stores.

In that case have a couple of other ideas from current advertisements which should offer no difficulties.

A New York-Beverly Hills haberdasher has a hand-painted tie, which in the illustration looks like one of those pillows one wins at a county fair by tossing rings over pins. It is unique. Only one of a kind is made. If you give us that, nobody in the whole wide world will have a tie like ours, and we are certain that all who see us in it will gasp, at the very least, and will always remember the occasion, and us.

One of these ties can be purchased for as little as $25, although for $50 and up it is possible to obtain better art work and, presumably, a higher grade of pigment in the paints used.

From the catalog of the Greatest Sporting Goods Store in the World we learn that de luxe English cigaret lighters are available for either dress or daily use. They possess imported Swiss mechanisms. The 14-karat gold case is engine-turned, and comes in a variety of designs. There is space for monograming on top.

The ladies' model, including tax, costs only $137.50. But this is not for us. There is a gentleman's model, on which also the tax has been figured in, for $148.50.

Incidentally, we have been asked to suggest something that would please the Little Woman. That has been a sticker, but the other day we watched her poring spellbound over the advertisement of a Fifth Avenue (New York) store, wherein was contained a dignified announcement that one Arnaud (to paraphrase the name) is available for interviews.

We quote from the discreet little notice, which was headed "the Arnaud Hour."

"In the privacy of a studio, Arnaud will study your features and personality . . . he will give consultation lessons to his clients . . . he will create individual coiffeurs from the informal to the most glamorous . . . he will make an exciting, drastic change in your looks and personality. Appointment by letter only. 50.00 an hour." (No sordid dollar sign, please note. This appeal is to persons of refinement and delicacy.)

Arnaud, we understand, does not cut hair or wave it or do anything like that. Not, at least, in person during the Arnaud Hour. His services are more cultural and inspirational. It is his function to tell our wives how they can become new women, exciting women, glamorous women—women who will make their husbands feel almost like unintentional bigamists.

There are suggestions for our family. We hope you like them.

WE WANT TO KNOW

We do not know exactly what is the inside story behind the alleged liquor shortage. We hope that some of the investigations now under way and projected will bring out the pertinent facts.

Because, in offset to what we do not know, there is this that we do know: Whoever or whatever is behind the liquor situation is playing squarely into the hands of the Prohibitionists, and could easily bring back the conditions from which repeal delivered the United States. And that we must not have.

OUR FIRST DUTY

There can be little disagreement with this portion of R. J. Thomas' recent address to a rally of his United Automobile Workers in Detroit:

"I would rather die of starvation than have a brother killed by a Nazi bullet. The most important thing for a union to do now is to end the war as quickly as possible, and the only means of realizing this goal is to abide by our no-strike pledge."

While gas companies bicker and claim gas is scarce and that they are having a hard time to get an adequate supply, the Clinger Oil and Gas Company well near Tidioute is blowing 10,000,000 feet into the air every day. State officials will investigate.

Walter Davidson, 16-year-old boy, suffered gunshot wounds while out hunting for rabbits yesterday. With other boys he was hunting near Torpedo when a gun was discharged. Several pellets struck him and after their removal at the hospital he was able to go home.

A delightful reunion of the former students of Edinboro Teachers College was held last evening at the YWCA. Dinner was served and then President Crawford of the college and Mr. Emory, musical director, spoke. Their talks were of interest and proved highly pleasing.

Water has been turned into the Phillips' ice ponds at Venturetown and all is in readiness for Jack Frost to arrive and turn the water into ice. The big ice houses have been put in shape to receive the crop when it is cut.

A crew of men from the Hammond Iron Works has been sent to Farmers Valley to erect tankage at the new plant of the refining company there. This group of tanks will be the first of a number to be erected in the territory from which the company draws its supply of crude.

A resident of Jackson street called at the Times-Mirror office this morning with the information that the road to Smith's Corners is blocked with drifted snow. The farmers cannot get through and hope for a visit from the snow plow.

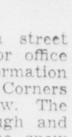

Announcement is made that the Alpha Gamma Sigma, Inc., will hold its Christmas party in the Conewango Club on the evening of December 25. The affair promises to be a delightful one and a good orchestra and other features will make the party one long to be remembered.

Between 175 and 200 attended the Odd Fellows rally held with Clarendon Lodge last evening. Four lodges in the east end of the county took part and music was a feature of the evening. A lunch was served.

Sunday classes will be confirmed at both the Warren and Kinzua Episcopal churches. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Ward will be present at both services and deliver the ceremonies.

A party for members and friends of the Joseph Warren Chapter of the D. A. R. held last evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, Market street, last evening, proved very delightful. The affair was a benefit bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. T. C. Schuyler and Miss Evelyn Johnson.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Just why the Army Air Force has kept its women flyers under censorship wraps for so long is one of those minor capital mysteries.

More than a year ago, the Women's Auxiliary Ferrying Service (WAAFS) was active but very little was said about it. At Camp Davis, N. C., nearly 200 WASPS (Women's Airforce Service Pilots), an outgrowth of the WAAFS) are doing some of the toughest combat flying known—all women trained under the direction of well-known Aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran.

Before many weeks, there will be at least 500 women flyers in the WASPS. About 600 more will be in training at Sweetwater and Houston, Texas and 1,000 additional will be awaiting training assignments. That accounts for more than one half of the estimated 4,000 eligible women flyers in the country and constitutes one of the most surprising service records in the war.

After a lot of off-the-record queries, I've come to the conclusion that the reluctance to give flying dames their due was:

(1) Fear that they wouldn't make good and that the Army Air Forces would get the bird for even inaugurating the program;

(2) An innate reluctance on the part of the men, both pilots and ground crews, to concede that women flyers were capable of handling the Air Force's gruelling non-combatant assignments.

IN view of this, Jacqueline Cochran and Nancy Harkness Love, director of the WASPS, said not a word. However, it is now safe to talk a little. The girls have proved themselves; the men have accepted them.

A few days ago I talked to a veteran fighter pilot back from the South Pacific. He had been down to Camp Davis on a lecture mission.

"I had about the same opinion of women pilots that some taxi drivers have of women motorists," he said. "Then one day, I was standing on the sands north of Camp Davis, watching anti-aircraft drill. One of those little baby carriages was towing a target sleeve 300 yards behind and a pattern of ack-ack 100 yards square was being poured into it. That pilot had a dirty assignment. I know. A konkout, a loss of flying speed, a sudden down or up draft, and that little plane would have been in the soup. When it was over, I breathed easier and said 'nice flying' to the officer who was with me. He said: "Yeah, pretty good for a 22-year-old girl who left flying school in June."

"I was dumbfounded."

THE WASPs are women 18 to 34 years of age. They have to have at least 35 solo hours before they can apply for training. At Davis, there are stenographers, school teachers, chemists, newspaperwomen, bookkeepers and a few just plain housewives.

They not only tow targets, they do tricky night flying to provide practice for the searchlight crews, dodge all over the sky for flack aiming drills; and in general everything there is to be done in non-combat service. They live in barracks, but unlike the WACs they aren't a part of the Army. They get $150 a month base pay in training and $250 in service, out of which they pay barracks rental and officers' mess fee. Their off-duty uniforms are in the making and will be snappy and government-issued.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — There is no dramatic medium more suited than motion pictures to the projection of fantasy, and no business that has been more frightened of the word than the movie business—until recently.

What goes on in many of the studies today is literally out of this world. There are excursions into the hereafter, glimpses into the supernatural, and gay, whimsical, or tender ghosts, some of them holding communion with the living.

For a long time, probably because some forgotten fantasy was filmed and promptly died at the box-office, Hollywood has steered clear of any theme exploring death. The hereafter except in standard horror movies, was deemed as risky as boy-meets-girl was sure-fire.

IF "Death Takes a Holiday" made a beautiful picture, it could be dismissed as an exception. If "The Ghost Goes West" made a tremendous hit, it could be passed off with, "Yes, but that's comedy." Later it was "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" that kept the turnstiles clicking, and more recently, "Heaven Can Wait,"—both prompting the usual shrugged "Ah, but they're comedies."

The out-of-this-world pictures today aren't all comedies. Some of them, like "The Canterville Ghost," are. American doughboys mix with a tired old spectre (Charles Laughton) who haunts the English castle where they're billeted.

"It Happened Tomorrow" is a comedy. A reporter gets tomorrow's newspaper today—and he gets it from an aged newspaper friend who, as he doesn't know, is dead.

But "A Guy Named Joe" isn't a comedy. Spencer Tracy plays the role of an American flier, killed in the war, who rides the fighting air lanes guiding other pilots. There's humor in it, but it's no comedy. It's uplift, and inspiration.

AND then there's "Outward Bound." They're changing the title, mainly because the first film version, with Leslie Howard and Doug Fairbanks jr., fine as it was, confirmed the local fear of fantasy at the box-office. And the story has been placed in a wartime setting, but it is still the story of an ocean liner whose passengers, seemingly all alive, make the astounding discovery that they're dead and bound — outward.

Nobody seems afraid of "Outward Bound" this time. The cast includes John Garfield, Paul Henreid, Sydney Greenstreet (who plays his first sympathetic role in reels), Eleanor Parker, Dennis King, Edmund Gwenn, and George Coulouris (playing another of his very unsympathetic roles).

If it's the beginning of a cycle, now is the time for it. A war picture doesn't necessarily concern itself with battles.

SHEFFIELD NEWS

Sheffield, Nov. 25.—The Rotary-luncheon was presided by the president, L. B. Jones, and presented Major Richard Taylor as the guest speaker. Major Taylor has spent the past two years in the Canal Zone. The honored seniors to the luncheon were Miss Annabelle Snyder and Frank Uylon. Robert Miller of Clairton was present at the meeting.

The Homebuilders Sunday school class was the guest of Mrs. P. J. Finerty Tuesday evening. The devotionals were conducted by Miss Eva Brown. The business meeting was presided by the president, Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor. Plans were made for the Christmas party December 14, at the home of Mrs. Archie Brown. Members are asked to be on time as a six-thirty dinner will be served. There will be no exchanging of gifts but the members are asked to turn the money in for the White Gift Fund. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. P. J. Finerty and Mrs. Claude Landers.

The Woman's Club will meet at the Red Cross rooms Monday evening for surgical dressings.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whittaker have returned from a visit with their son, T. P. Whittaker, and family, at Brandon, Vermont.

Miss Eva Brown is spending the holiday at the home of her brother, Herbert, and family, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hilda Reed and Miss Lucille Baynes left Wednesday for Rochester, N. Y., to spend the rest of the week.

Miss Orpha Martin is spending Thanksgiving in Jamestown.

Misses Mary Ann Christian and Joyce Cedarlof, Cadet Nurses attending Edinboro State Teachers' College, are home for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Martin are spending Thanksgiving in Brookville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman have received word that their sons, Claude and James, have arrived in England.

Corporal LaVerne Schuler, stationed at Drew Field, Tampa, Fla., returns tonight after a three-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schuler, Mill street.

Surgical Dressing Group Is in Need Of Women Workers

Despite the usual rush and bustle that heralds the busy holiday season in Warren, the women workers of the Red Cross surgical dressing groups are urged to save time for the work that must be done.

Today ends the three-day holiday from the task of rolling surgical dressings and on Monday the real job should start off with a bang. You are urged now to budget your hours in such a way that you'll have some to spare for Red Cross accomplishments. 30,000 surgical dressings is the new quota and they are urgently needed by fighting men everywhere.

Don't wait until the last minute—Monday is the day. Try to be on hand the first of the week. Let's get the job done immediately!

Number of Salvage Drives to Be Staged in Warren County During Month of December

The month of December promises to be the most active Salvage month in Warren County since the attack on Pearl Harbor, nearly two years ago, according to W. T. Corbett, Chairman of the Warren County Salvage Committee. Mr. Corbett summarized the various December drives as follows:

"USED CLOTHING"

The first war-time drive for used clothing is already under way in the schools of the Borough and of the County. A carton will be placed in each school. Students are requested to bring in used clothing from their own homes and from the homes of neighbors who have no children, on Wednesday morning, December 1. The clothing will be sorted, dry-cleaned, and shipped to the National Headquarters. Both H. L. Blair, County Superintendent, and John G. Rossman, Borough Superintendent, have addressed letters to every teacher in the County requesting cooperation in this urgent matter.

In many of the ravaged countries millions of people are freezing for want of clothing. The Clothing Drive is nation-wide, and our government hopes to secure fifty million garments. The following types of garments are desired:

Both good clothing and rags which you wish to give to the Salvage Division of the War Production Board. Used clothing such as overcoats, suits, sweaters, underwear, pajamas, gloves, overalls, dresses, cotton or rayon materials such as dresses, skirts, blouses, shirts, pillow cases, useless towels, draperies, blankets, slip covers. In short, almost any type of clothing or rags, except those listed in the following group:

Hats, caps, shoes, leather gloves, neckties, garters, rubbers, overshoes, galoshes, slippers, collars, belts, spats, leather leggings, rubber coats, rubber boats, masquerade costumes, corsets, veils, diapers.

State Highway trucks will collect all clothing on Friday, December 3. Teachers in one-room schools, where the amount collected is small, may if possible, deliver their collection to a larger nearby school where the truck will pick it up.

W. T. Corbett also requested all clubs to place cartons in their lobbies for men's used clothing, and all churches to put notices on their bulletin boards announcing both the Used Clothing campaign and the Pearl Harbor Paper Drive.

"WASTE PAPER"

The County-wide waste paper drive is already well under way. The schools are the chief instruments of collection in thir instance also, and a goal of one hundred tons of paper has been set. Letters have gone out to all Salvage Chairmen in the other communities of the county and pledges of support have been received vit telephone from Youngsville, Sheffield, Russell, North Warren, and Pleasant Township. Paper collected will be used in the war effort to augment the nation's rapidly dwindling supply of material for the paper mills. The entire proceeds will be to the Red Cross to help in the work of aiding American prisoners of war in Japanese and German hands, with food, medical supplies and other necessaries.

Mr. Corbett also stressed the fact that many offices have tons of waste paper in the form of ald records that should be turned in. The United Lumber Company has already contributed about 600 pounds and the Warren Land Office, about 300 pounds. There is no doubt that many tons of paper could be secured in the form of old records that have gathered dust for many years.

Mr. Corbett asked the Times to correct an impression held in some quarters, regarding prizes for the Waste Paper Drive in the schools. The cash prizes are to go not to the individual pupil, but to the individual schools; and will be based on the gross poundage turned in by the school, divided by the number of students in that school, to give a per capita average.

"TIN CANS"

A recent tin can report received from Colley S. Baker, Executive Secretary for Pennsylvania, showed that only eight of the Counties of the State exceeded or equalled their October tin can quotas. Out of these eight counties in the entire state, four are in Region 8, in which Warren County is included. These four counties were Clarion, Erie, McKean and Warren.

"IRON AND STEEL SCRAP"

The following message was received from Edward L. Solomon, Chairman of Waste Dealers Committee of the State Council of Defense:

"The Waste Dealers Committee wishes to state that the sortage of iron and steel scrap that confronts the steel industry will seriously affect the war effort.

If cast iron and steel grades are not collected, there will be shutdowns in the armament manufacturing plants in Pennsylvania.

The Committee further believes that the newspapers should be asked to stress these facts."

Behind-the-Scenes Technicians Equally Important to Success of Productions

Directors of "Heaven Can Wait," comedy-fantasy scheduled to be presented on December 9 and 10 at the Woman's Club, are fortunate in having a splendid group of craftsmen and women to assist in making the performance possible.

In producing any play, the stage setting, lights, properties and costumes are as important to the desired effect as the ability of the actors and actresses. "Heaven Can Wait" taxes the ingenuity of each and every person working to achieve a successful show.

Despite the Christmas rush, Lester Criswell found time to design the settings for the play and will surpervise construction whenever he has spare time. In his absence, William Dashem will head the committee. "Bill" is also standing by to handle the required sound effects. Mr. Criswell is assisted by Ann G. Blackman, Anne Krantz, Frances O'Neil, Richard Blair and Fred Printz, Jr. The group is busy now building and painting flats.

When a member of the cast needs a certain article during the course of the show, Helen McClure, assisted by Bertha Minnelli and Edith Sellin, sees to it that such properties are handy. The property committee is vital to any production. The costumes for "Heaven Can Wait" are in charge of Marion MacDowell, with Joan Lavery lending a helping hand.

In command of the lights for the players' production is "Mac" Kinander, who spent several weeks during the summer as a stage technician at a prominent theatre on the eastern seaboard. "Mac" will continue his studies in Chicago this winter. He has many new and unusual ideas in regard to lighting effects and the result of his additional training will be a professional touch for "Heaven Can Wait."

To lighten the burden for Betty Rice and Betty Field, Fern Mostert has assumed the responsibilities of stage manager while Joan B. Hoye has been active as program advisor since tre play was selected and cast.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Makin-Tarawa Attack Forges a Pincers

CHURCH NOTES

Dr. Harold C. Warren will use as his sermon topic for Sunday morning "A Great Anniversary of Our Church." Music will be entirely of Mendelssohn compositions, Jackson Barrell's organ solos being the Finale from "The Third Symphony" and Adagio from "Sonata No. 1"; the choir singing "How Lovely Are the Messengers" and Russell Hammar's singing as a tenor solo, "If With All Your Hearts" fro "The Elijah". The Church of Tomorrow will be conducted by the young people with Charles Sires presiding and Rowell Hoff giving the prayer.

Dr. J. A. Galbraith, district superintendent from Jamestown will occupy the pulpit at the 10:30 a. m. service in First Methodist church Sunday and will conduct a brief conference session afterward.

BIRTHS

At Maternity

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Morrell, 21 South South street, are parents of a son born Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Rydgren, 204 Madison avenue, are parents of a son born Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Pierce, of Youngsville, are parents of a daughter born Thanksgiving morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tudor, Warren RD 3, are parents of a son born Thanksgiving evening.

WHAT'S A TUFFET?

A tuffet was an Anglo-Saxon measure for corn, shaped like a peach basket. Two pecks equaled one tuffet and two tuffets equaled one bushel. Farmers often used the tuffet as a stool while munching their frugal meal of curds and whey.

Chapter 10

ALF reached down to the floor and picked up a worn piece of steel wool. "I'm fed up with this dog-chasing," he told Pete. Slowly, he began rubbing an already over-polished section of tubing.

"I imagine so," Pete agreed. "I've been here three weeks, tonight, and I'm sick of it, plenty."

"I been trying to quit," Alf confessed. "For a month, now, I been trying to quit. I had a good job before I came here and I can go back to it. . . ."

"Where?"

"Over to the state Home for the Insane. I was engineer. Had to fire up the big steam boilers for the power plant. Not much pay, but I got my room and board and had plenty of time to fish. I got three hours off, afternoons, three days a week . . . and I always had something to do."

"But the people," Pete put in, "the crazy people. Didn't they worry you? I mean working around them . . . and all?"

"Not a bit. They were crazy, all right. But not half as crazy as the gang in this plant."

"Well, why didn't you quit?"

"I couldn't, buddy. I just ain't been able to make the grade . . . yet."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean, it ain't no cinch, quitting this place. I saw the foreman: he sent me to the supervisor. Supervisor sent me to Personel. Rollins told me I'd have to present my case to the 'Human Relations Board,' who look the case over from all angles and vote on it."

"Well?"

"THE 'Board' only meets the third Friday in every other month . . . and finally when they took up my case they decided that I didn't show enough reason to quit.

"But, I wasn't licked, yet. A guy over in Hydraulics told me I could appeal the case to the night superintendent and just as soon as they get some new 'Appeal Forms' printed, the super says he will okay one for me. . . ."

"Well, when will the forms be printed?"

"Just as soon as 'Methods and Control' division makes up their minds on the size and they are approved by Personnel and the general manager."

"How long will that take?"

Alf put a finger to his lips, reached over and touched Pete on the shoulder. "Don't tell a soul," he cautioned, "but a big girl in Methods and Control told me the 'Termination Request Form,' was about fifteen from the top of the stack and that her boss would get to it in a week or so." He grinned owlishly. "So," he continued, "I may get to quit before long, after all!"

Pete stared at Alf, curiously. Was the old man feeble-minded, he wondered? Had constant association with the inmates of the State Home rendered him overly-imaginative. Surely, a man didn't have to go through such red tape merely to quit a job.

He looked at Alf again. No, the old man was serious. His eyes were clear and intelligent. Evidently, it was a problem . . . to quit this plant.

At that moment, the lunch whistle blew. Pete hurried with the crowd who were making a mad rush toward the big cafeteria, but his eyes were fastened on the Paint Shop entrance. Kitty appeared with an inch long strip of adhesive under her chin and Pete rushed to her side, forcing his way through the stream of laughing, joking, jostling workers.

"I'll bet," Pete said, his head close to Kitty's ear, "that I know what they're got for lunch."

"What?"

"Carrots and peas and peas and carrots."

"Right," Kitty said, then, "You're getting to be an old-timer, aren't you. Kind of know your way around here, by now?"

"Sure." Pete smiled. How beautiful she was, he thought. And she was as friendly as a little pup and the kind of a girl who, somehow, understood a fellow; appreciated his ambitions, his ideals.

They had reached the cafeteria and had taken their places in the long line of workers, shoving their trays along the gleaming chromium rails, toward the food. In a surprisingly short time they were served and made their way toward a corner table which was not overly-crowded.

Many of the workers called out to them as they passed.

"That's Pete Neil," one said, his voice covering the entire group of twelve at his table.

"SO, what?" A voluptuous red-head asked, her mouth half-filled with carrots and peas.

"He's the guy who told 'Big Boy' where to head in . . . you know, the guy who made a sap out of Rollins and got put on dog-chasing."

"Yeah," put in another, "And he's got the guts to stick with it, too."

"That's good enough for me," stated the red-head.

While she ate, Kitty studied a blank new cross-word puzzle in the book she had pulled from her hip pocket.

"Puzzles . . . puzzles, always puzzles," Pete complained, good-naturedly. "I wish you'd put that puzzle away and talk to me for a while!"

CAR ON FIRE

The emergency truck of the Central Fire Department was called out yesterday at 1:11 p. m. when a car owned by Mrs. Howard Shawkey was on fire. Little damage was done.

BATTLERS INTERRUPTED

A fellow who had indulged in some drinkin' licker developed pugilistic tendencies on Hickory street Wednesday night. Police were called and the melee had ceased on their arrival and the battlers toddled off homeward.

CAR WAS HIT

The automobile of Emil H. Lampe parked near the postoffice on Third avenue was hit with a car driven by a local doctor. The car was damaged to an extent of $25. The doctor did not stop and was brought to police headquarters where he arranged for a settlement.

WAS QUIET DAY

Warren yesterday observed the holiday in a most staid manner with all business places closed and most of the citizenhy staying close to their own fireside. The weather was delightful and there were many automobiles out on the high ways. Many visited with relatives in nearby owns and the city bore a rather deserted appearance. No accidents or untoward incidents marked the day locally and all in all it was a quiet day.

WARREN PLANT HAS RECORD

The Warren Plant of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., one of the newest of the company's rapidly expanding family, won the month's contest for the best attendance record, it has been announced in the company magazine, the BEAM. Warren employees attained the unusually good record of 97.2 perfect attendances. All absences, including those for sickness and other excusable causes are counted against the record. Eighteen other Sylvania plants participated in the contest. Manager of the Warren plant is Ralph Beal. Manufacturing Superintendent is Art Chapman.

Army and Navy Set for Big Clash on West Point Gridiron

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 26—(AP)—Victory through the air is the newest theme of the military minded so it is no surprise that the experts dissecting tomorrow's Army-Navy football game in advance are arguing along the same lines.

Tiny Hal Hamburg, Navy's pigskin mortar, has tossed 79 aerials in the Middie's eight games this fall and 34 of them have reached their mark for 503 yards. In most of the debates he is conceded to be the best passer in tomorrow's semi-secret clash.

But the Army's statistics are the more imposing. With Glenn Davis and Tom Lombardo doing the flinging, the Cadets tried the air lanes 122 times in their nine games and 62 were completed for 914 yards.

That's an average of 101.6 yards a game through the air while Hamberg, who does virtually all the Navy's first-string tossing, has a mean average of 64 yards a game.

The experts however, figure that Army's previous weakness against the overhead attack will crop up once more as the Middies try for their nineteenth victory in the 44th game of the series. Army has won 22 of the games in the past and three have been tied.

Tomorrow's game, involving two of the east's best clubs, will be played in comparitive secrecy of 10,00 fans who qualified under the governmental order that admission be restricted to residents in a 10-mile radius.

Football's Second Wartime Season is Nearing Its Close

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Football's second wartime season closes in appropriate martial surroundings tomorrow with the servicemen privileged to enjoy two of the year's best bets almost without civilian attendance.

When the Army and Navy meet for the eastern championship, the only folks present will be military academy cadets and the gentry living within 10 miles of West Point.

The sailors of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station will be the only spectators when the Notre Dame Irishmen try to hurdle their tenth and final obstacle to a national title.

There wasn't any ban on crowds Thanksgiving Day when Philadelphia turned out 60,000 to watch Penn outscramble Cornell, 20-14. Thirty-two thousand watched Texas qualify for a Cotton Bowl bid and the southwest crown by whipping Texas Aggies, 27-13. The losers earned an Orange Bowl date with L. S. U.

When Colgate stopped Brown, 21-14, on a blocked punt that bounced 34 yards for a touchdown, 10,000 were present. A like number saw Bucknell ruin Franklin and Marshall's perfect season, 21-13. Tulsa drew 15,000 as the Hurricane barbecued the Arkansas Razorbacks, 61-0.

Other noteworthy holiday returns showed South Carolina knocking Wake Forest out of post season consideration, 13-2; Maryland stopping V. M. I., 21-14; North Carolina Pre-Flight slapping North Carolina State, 21-7; Fort Riley winning over Kansas, 22-7; St. Mary's defeating Utah, 34-0, and Oklahoma Aggies nosing out Denver, 7-6.

Orange Bowl Tries a New Plan for Bids

Miami, Fla., Nov. 26—(AP)—The Orange Bowl is coming up this time with something new—a rematch of a regular season football game between the Texas Aggies and Louisiana State University.

Texas A. and M. whipped L.S.U., 28 to 13, when they met October 9, and in the game touchdown-minded Orange Bowl sponsore saw possibilities of a repeat performance on New Year's Day which could give the Miami crowd of 30-odd thousand its money's worth.

As a departure from usual bowl procedure, sponsors announced the signing of both Orange Bowl teams immediately after they had lost their regular-season finales.

News of Louisiana's bid was given out last Saturday following the Tigers' 27 to 0 loss to Tulane, and yesterday the Aggies hardly had left the field where they were trounced by Texas, 27 to 13, before the invitation and acceptance were made puplic.

Had A. and M. whipped Texas, the Orange Bowl would have been on the hunt again, because the game decided the Southwestern Conference championship, and the title-winner usually is chund to go to the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Herb Pennock Offered Phils Managership

Philadelphia, Nov. 26—(AP)—With Herb Pennock still undecided about accepting an offer to become general manager of the Phillies, Bob Carpenter, the club's new president, meets his field manager for the first time today.

Baseball-wise Freddy Fitzsimmons and Carpenter, 28, youngest club head in the major leagues, will discuss "routine matters," the club office announces.

Meanwhile, Carpenter confirmed that Pennock, manager of the Boston Red Sox farm system, is the man he wants as general manager.

Pennock, former American League pitching ace, said he has not yet decided whether to accept, but added, "I am extremely flattered by the offer." Tom Yawkey, Red Sox owner, has given permission to accept the new post if he desires.

Opportunity For Youths Is Offered Soon

Youths of Warren county are offered a most excellent opportunity to become members of the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and to wear Silver Wings by the United States. Boys of 17 are needed for training in the air corps. At the present time there is no dearth of airmen but the boys of 17 are given an examination, awarded Silver Wings and are not called for service until they are 18 years of age. This gives them an opportunity to finish their schooling and if need be they can secure a six months extension.

After that they are sent to Florida for a months basic training; then to college for five months; then to pre-flight schools and then to a primary school which is followed by basic and advanced air training. This constitutes a liberal education and lucky is the youth who enlists in this branch. There is also the thought that perhaps the war may end and the boys will not be needed. This is rather alluring as the boys stand to be drafted when they are 18 years of age.

Representatives of this recruiting are in town today arranging for examinations to be held at the Elk's Club next Friday, December 3. Every boy of 17 is the county would do well to viist the Elks Club on that date and take the examination and parents will do well to encourage their boys to get into this most cherished service of Uncle Sam.

Postmaster Gives Dates For Mailing

Postmaster J. K. Bell issues the following reminder regarding last-minute mailing dates for Christmas gifts and greeting cards:

To those who did not heed the advice of the Post Office Department and failed to mail their Christmas Gifts and Greetings Cards in Nov. Postmaster Bell issues this final warning. The attached last minute mailing schedule, for parcels, letters and cards, to various sections of the country must be observed in order to assure their delivery by Christmas Day.

Mail Not Later Than

December 2—All Military Camps in the United States.

December 6—Pacific Coast States; also Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico.

December 7—All states west of the Mississippi (excluding the above states) also Florida.

December 8—All Southern States, New England States, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Kentucky.

December 9—Ohio, New York, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania.

December10—Western Pennsylvania.

December 15—Local and Warren County.

To avoid delay in delivery the Postmaster advises all mailers to wrap packages accurately, address plainly, insure all valuable shipments. Send greeting cards first class mail. Mark gift packages "Do Not Open Until Christmas.

WAC Recruiter Spends Day Here

WAAC Lieutenant Clarke spent Wednesday afternoon at Metzger-Wright's interviewing many young girls who were interested in joining the WACS. This is Lieutenant Clarke's first visit to the store but from now on she will be at a specially constructed booth on the first floor every Wednesday from ten in the morning until closing time at five o'clock. Women and girls who join now will not be called into service until after Christmas.

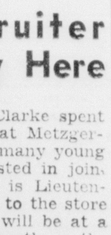

Lieutenant Clarke hoped that every woman and girl in Warren would go to the Library Theater during Friday and Saturday of this week to see the picture "Women at War", the technicolor short about the Women's Army Corps. It gives a true picture of the life in the WAC training camp as it was taken at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, the first WAC training camp.

While at Metzger-Wright's Wednesday, Lieutenant Clarke was attended by a Guard of Honor of Girl Scouts of the Warren District.

ECLIPSE IS A WEAPON

Lawrence of Arabia once planned an attack on an outpost and timed it to coincide with an eclipse of the moon. Not knowing the eclipse was due and believing they would not be attacked during a time of full moon, the inhabitants were taken completely by surprise.

Dailey and Koebley Rites Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Koebley, 108 Myrtle street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lorraine Lucille, to Pfc. Paul Edward Dailey, U. S. Army Air Corps medical detachment, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Dailey, 539 West Seventh street, Erie.

The marriage took place at Blessed Sacrament rectory in Erie on September 6, 1942. They were married by the Rev. John Gorman, now assisting at the Cathedral in Erie. Mrs. Gale W. Cook, sister of the bride, and Robert Dailey, brother of the bridegroom, attended the couple.

Mrs. Dailey was graduated from Warren High School in the Class of 1939 and from St. Vincent's training school for nurses in 1943, and is now nursing in Warren General Hospital.

Pfc. Dailey was graduated from Cathedral Prep and attended Cathedral College for two years. Before entering the service he was employed by Erie newspapers, is now stationed somewhere in England, attached to the Eighth Air Force.

Social Events

MISSIONARY SPEAKER

The missionary societies of the First Lutheran church invite all women of the church and interested friends to join in a meeting to be held Tuesday. Rev. Edwin E. Moll, of Pittsburgh, will speak to the group at 4:00 p. m., a tureen supper will be enjoyed at 5:30 and the annual thankoffering meeting will follow immediately.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF ROCKWELL CLASS

It is very important that every member of the Rockwell Bible Class turn out for the meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in Trinity Memorial parish house, since the work on layettes for the Visiting Nursing Association must be completed at this time.

FRIDAY EVENING MUSIC CLUB SESSION

Members of the Friday evening Music Club will hold their regular session at the studio-home of Mrs. Allie Russell, 205 Pennsylvania avenue, east, this evening, with a musical discussion preceding the program and projection of famous paintings to follow.

LUDLOW

Miss Mabel Peterson, daughter of Mrs. Hannah Peterson, who has recently been inducted into the Women's Army Corps, was the guest of honor at a party given at the Lutheran church on Tuesday evening, the sixth. There were over one hundred in attendance. A program was given with Gustav Olson, superintendent of Sunday schools, acting as toastmaster. Patriotic songs were sung by the group followed by "Auld Lang Syne", played by the entire school orchestra directed by Miss Mary Catherine Maxwell, music supervisor. Following this, little Winifred Jones presented Miss Peterson with a corsage. Mr. Olson made mention of the splendid service Miss Peterson has performed in the community. She has been primary superintendent of the Sunday school for the past eleven years and did several years of teaching before that. She has been a member of the Lutheran choir for years and has actively participated in the Luther League, at present being its vice president. She has also been an active member of the Red Cross and is a committee member of the Brownie Scout troop.

The fourth number on the program was a song sung by the following young girls trained by Miss Peterson: Susan Anderson, Mary Anna Connelly, Delores Johnson, Joanna Johnson, Vivian Nelson and Katherine Swanson. The program continued with a patriotic piano solo by Robert Johnson, nephew of the guest of honor, followed by "God Bless America," sung by the choir director, Mrs. Emil Nelson. Mrs. Raymond Shaffer, church organist, played a piano solo. The choir sang a favorite song, "Lyssna." Rev. Carl Gronquist presented the honored guest with a gift from the Sunday school teachers, a purse of money from the community, and a Testament from the Lutheran Brotherhood. The program concluded with another number by the orchestra, "The Army Air Corps." A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed later.

Miss Tillie Olson and friends entertained at a dinner on Sunday, the fourteenth, for Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Berg, of Warren. Mrs. Berg, a recent bride, is the daughter of Mrs. A. L. Larson, and was the former Miss Marian Larson. Mrs. Berg is a teacher in the public school system of Warren. The honored guests were given crystal. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Berg, Miss Edith Larson, Mrs. A. L. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ewanson, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Algot Swanson, Mrs. Wales Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Olson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Olson, Tillie Olson, of Ludlow, and Miss Ebba Gustafson, of Kane.

Mrs. Evert Johnson and Miss Violet Swanson were hostesses to the Lutheran Circle on Wednesday, the seventh, at the home of the former. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Walter Cox, and the business meeting followed. There were twenty-three in attendance and one guest, Mrs. Lavinia Steiner, of Eldred. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Mrs. L. B. Connelly, chairman of Ludlow Girl Scouts, entertained the general and troop committees and leaders at her home on Monday evening, the eighth. Committees were appointed for the coming year and a general business meeting was held.

The Martha Society of the Lutheran church met at the church parlors on Wednesday, the tenth, with Mrs. Chas. Lantz and Mrs. A. L. Larson as hostesses. A report was made that $30.75 was earned by the organization in thesale of Christmas cards. The year's income was given away to charitable and missionary projects. The following program was given: Reading, Mrs. C. O. Johnson; vocal duet, Mrs. Emil Nelson and Mrs. Mollie Mattison; reading, Mrs. Freda Swanson.

Arthur Christenson and Albert Bramstang were hosts to the Lutheran Brotherhood on Thursday evening, the eleventh, at the church. The meeting was conducted by Leroy Johnson. A business meeting was held followed by a program. A reading was given by C. W. Swanson. Vocal solos by Carl Swanson and a reading by John Johnson were given appropriate to Armistice Day. Lunch was served at the close of the program.

The American Legion Auxiliary were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. J. Carlson on Tuesday, the ninth. The meeting was led by the president, Mrs. L. B. Connelly Mrs. C. J. Carlson, delegate, gave an interesting report of the council meeting held at Kane. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. James A. Connelly.

The community of Ludlow has been much saddened by the death of Eugene Huber who has always been active in community affairs. He was one of the first Boy Scout leaders and many young men in Ludlow will remember his interest and influence.

The high-school orchestra is forging ahead with new members added to those of last year under the direction of Miss Mary Catherine Maxwell. They are preparing for a winter concert. They are also hoping to purchase uniforms so sponsored a tag day this week in which they were successful in getting over seventy dollars toward their goal.

The high school students are taking full advantage of the dancing classes taught by Jack Gaynor and Miss Maxwell. The French club had their monthly meeting at the the home of Miss Macie Johnson on Tuesday evening, the sixteenth. The Dramatic Club will meet on the twenty-third.

The Brownie Scouts met at Scout Headcuarters Tuesday evening with their leaders, Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. Leroy Johnson. The Intermediates met with their leaders, Miss Catherine Bellucci and Miss Peiper on Monday. The Senior Girl Scouts are busy on an art project with their leaders, Mrs. Walter Cox and Mrs. Melvin McCleary assisted by Mrs. Julius Swanson.

Mrs. Adolph Johnson has announced that the October quota for the Red Cross has arrived and that the Red Cross rooms will be open to workers on Monday, the twenty-second.

Mrs. Edwin Peterson of Cleveland has been a guest of her parents for the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Carles Carlson. Mrs. Peterson has given up her apartment in Cleveland and left on Tuesday, the seventh for Jacksonville, Florida, to join her husband who is in naval training there. She stopped en route at Washington to visit her brother, Ensign Raymond Carlson.

In Air WACS

Jane Swanson, graduate of Sheffield High School in the Class of 1940 and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mull Swanson, Conneaut, O., enlisted in the Woman's Army Air Forces on November 8 was sworn in at Erie November 12 and expects to be called anytime for basic training. She has until recently been employed in Conneaut.

Posters Will Be Distributed By Boy Scouts

"You Can Have Silver Wings" is the title of the poster being distributed Saturday by Boy Scout Dispatch bearers. The poster this week comes from the office of War Information.

The Scouts will deliver these posters to merchants in Warren for display in their windows in the next two weeks.

The copy of the poster reads "You Can Have Silver Wings" if you are 17 and less than 18, you may be qualified for membership in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and for future training as an aviation cadet with the U. S. Army Air Forces. Apply at any Aviation Cadet examining board or any U. S. Army Recruiting Station. Men employed in essential war industries or engaged in agriculture will not be accepted. Men interested in Naval Aviation Cadet Training may apply at any navy recruiting station. This announcement is made with the approval of the joint Army and Navy personnel board."

Boy Scouts who are distributing posters Saturday are as follows: from the First Methodist church troop 9, Wilmer Latshaw, Alan Schuler, Richard Schuler, Charles the First Nazarine church troop 48, Paul Moore, Ronald Fitzgerald and Arnold Swanson.

AT SYLVANIA IT'S DAUGHTERS 3 TO 1

Despite learned scientific dissertations to the effect that more boys are born in time of war, this month's record at Sylvania Electric Products Inc., leading radio tube and lighting manufacturers, seems to prove the opposite.

Of the twenty-four blessed events announced in this month's Sylvania company magazine, eighteen were girls and six were boys so that "It's daughters three to one." Perhaps the fact that 80 per cent of the Company's employees are women (a proportion of four to one) may have something to do with it.

(From Page One)

They faced a machine gun in groups of five. The Germans then dynamited the quarry, burying the bodies under tons of rock.

British patrols found the women of the village still digging for the bodies of their husbands and sons when they entered several days later.

Russians Rip Gap In Line Near Gomel

upper Dnieper and appeared to have cracked wide open the road to Minsk.

This new drive, mounted in the Propoisk area 60 miles north of German-held Gomel, carried Soviet forces approximately 30 miles westward in three days, the bulletin declared. More than 2,000 Germans were killed in the three-day advance, 180 villages were liberated and enormous quantities of war gear were captured, the Russians said.

Minsk, close to the pre-war frontier of northern Poland, today was but 160 miles west of the Red army spearhead.

In another successful drive, second only in importance to the advance north of Gomel, the Russians announced they had cut the Zhlobin - Kalinkovichi railroad northwest of Rechitsa, capturing the towns of Posovo, Zherd, Ostankovichi and Koreni.

Horizontal-shafted Oil Well Near Franklin Is "Blown In"

1942. After the vertical shaft had been drilled, there was a delay of several months, due to difficulty in getting equipment, before starting the long sidearm shafts. This drilling was completed last month.

The well is located about two miles north of Franklin and only 20 miles from the world's first oil well drilled by Col. Edwin L. Drake in 1859. Drake's well came in at 59 feet. Ranney's is in the first Venango sand, a proven oil bed.

The companies interested in the venture are: South Penn of Pittsburgh; Forest Oil Co. and Kendall Refining Co., Bradford; Quaker State Oil Co. and the Pennzoil Co. of Oil City; Pennsylvania Refining Co., Butler; Freedom Oil Co., of Freedom; Canfield Oil Corp., of Cleveland; Alliance Oil Corp., of New York City; United Refining Co., Warren; Franklin Creek Refining Co., Franklin.

TIMES TOPICS

TO ACCOMMODATE HUNTERS

The office of County Treasurer Gibson will be kept open Saturday afternoon for the accommodation of hunters desiring to secure licences at that time.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

There was a good turnout Wednesday evening for the union Thanksgiving service held in First Methodist church by the Warren Council Ministerial Association, with its president, Rev. J. C. Wygant, preaching the sermon to an audience that completely filled the auditorium and a portion of the balcony. Rev. Ernest Ruary read the Scripture, Rev. Elmer Landerdahl offered prayer and choir and organist of First church provided the musical selections. A generous offering will be applied to the fund which provides new testaments for those going into service.

Positions of Eighth Army Are Improved

ing the bridgehead, which yesterday was reported nearly a mile and a half deep, official announcements today gave no information of any further advance.

Brisk activity was reported inland at the backbone of Italy where other Eighth Army units captured some high ground dominating the town of Castel di Sangro from the northwest. Germans previously were reported dynamiting and setting fire to the town, presumably preparing to abandoning it.

A front line dispatch from Associated Press War Correspondent Daniel De Luce quoted Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery as declaring the new bridgehead now was "very firmly held and secure."

Thanksgiving Day activity on the Fifth Army front on the western half of the line was limited to two violent 15-minute artillery bombardments against targets behind the enemy's lines as well as normal patrolling.

While rain continued to fall and mist reduced visibility throughout the battle area, an air force statement declared persistent bombing had kept closed to traffic for a month the three main railways running down the Italian peninsula to the battlefront.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces had crossed the most formidable obstacle yet in forcing the Sangro, but still were confronted by difficult enemy positions in the hills ringing the valley.

Conquest in South Pacific Extended

The total may well be much larger when the reports are received from other aircraft carrier groups.

For the same period, the carrier division eporting sustained losses of only three fighters and a torpedo bomber. In one engagement, the carrier fighters bagged 16 of 20 intercepted Zeros without losing a plane, the spokesman said.

Southwest of the Gilberts in the northern Solomons other American forces expanded to six miles along the west-central coast of Bougainville the beachhead they have carved out since Nov. 1 on Empress Augusta Bay.

sign until the agreement was on a national basis. The Southern Coal Producers Association, though represented in the talks, has held out against the form of agreement.

The interior department said all associations and operators who received Ickes' telegram of Wednesday asking their attendance had complied with the request.

The seven coal producers associations have expressed a willingness to pay the same weekly wage, $57.06, that is embodied in the ickes-Lewis working agreement covering the period of government operation but oppose computing the wage in a manner that would pay for underground travel time as a part of the working day. The southern group represents more than 125,500,000 tons annually, and Lewis was reported to have made this group's inclusion a condition of signing a contract.

A Clear Mirror is a gift that makes any room in which it is placed look so much larger, that much more attractive. Oblong without a frame, its beauty is unadorned.

4.95

Aprons to the girl who is doing her own cooking, aprons to mother, aprons to all . . . they'll adore these percale print ones with the bib top in any of the many colors.

Make her kitchen even brighter with these gayest of gay Kitchen Towels with their bright colored fruit and floral patterns or the rayon and cotton backgrounds.

59c

No ration stamps for Slippers, so you may give them to all the women folk on your list. Here is a beauty of soft kid with hard soles. Narrow and medium widths, sizes 4 to 9.

2.45

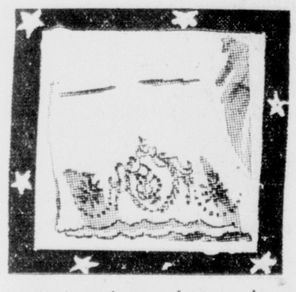

Shades of Kid Boots! A slipper that will keep her toes so warm and snug. Hard soles with kid top and a plush collar. Choose either black or brown to "go with" everything.

Handbags of all sizes, in leather or in fabric, with loads of room for all the many ration books every woman must carry. She would love this one with the plastic closing.

To that home-lover who adores the nicer things . . . give these Embroidered Pillow Cases. Some are embroidered in pastel shades, others all white, still others have applique touches.

2.25

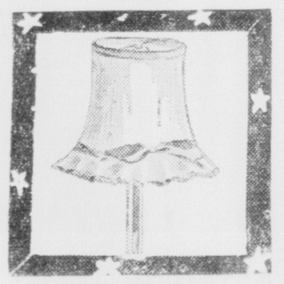

Is there one woman on your list who would not like a new blouse such as this Joan Kenley short sleeved one? Lace trimmed jabot from the high neckline to the top of the skirt.

Now that every bit of paper must be saved, every home will appreciate a gift of this gay Waste Basket with its bright floral patterns on pastel and dark backgrounds.

1.19

To the "ultra-feminine" on your list do give this dainty Boudoir Lamp with its pleated pastel shade on the very graceful glass stem and base. She will love you forever!

4.25

Does she like to read in bed? Then do give her this rayon quilted bed jacket in a floral pattern with its luxurious contrasting pastel rayon lining. Soft pastel shades.

3.29

A Magazine Stand to those who take so many magazines that they have no place to put them. Good sturdy walnut stand with graceful lattice sides and ends.

5.75

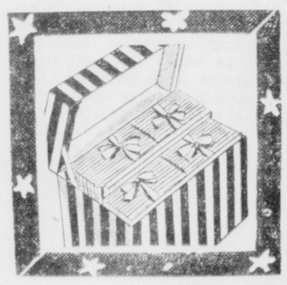

Who wouldn't be thrilled with this all wool North Star Blanket? In the most luscious shades of blue, rose, gold, and even white. Beautifully bound in rayon satin.

16.95

Mother would so love a new set of Dishes (she just won't buy them for herself), so do give her this 35-piece set. Choose from four floral patterns . . . all so different.

7.95

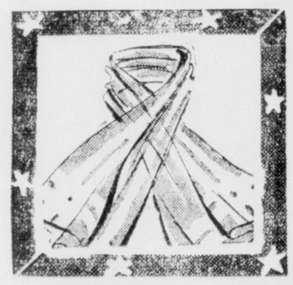

Give Personalized Stationery to all your friends. Make your choice from our large collection. Also insignia stationery for the boys in the service. Priced from $1.

3.00

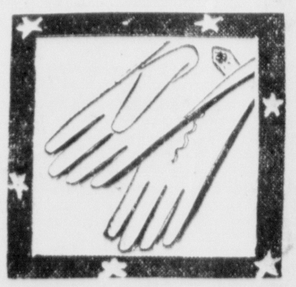

A figured Sateen Quilt is just what Mother has been wishing she had. They are so serviceable and do not soil easily. Do give her one to match the color scheme of her room.

6.95

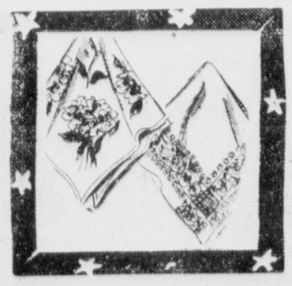

It wouldn't be Christmas without gifts of several pairs of Hose for any woman or girl. See that she is not disappointed by giving several pairs of these celanese rayon sheers.

97c

Why is it men prefer Pigskin Gloves? Perhaps it's because they wash so beautifully and always look so fresh. Just the kind he likes are these in natural shade.

3.95

No package could be complete without at least one printed Handkerchief tucked in for good luck . . . to the woman on your gift list. Bright deep prints or soft pastels—your choice at

59c

We say "AMERI CHRISTMAS" . . . A Merry Christmas in the American way. We have so much that others have not this Christmas or 1943, we, here in our own America. We shoud make it "AMERI" one in every way. Our children, our friends, our loved ones, should all be remembered with not only practical gifts, but gifts that will bring the Christmas spirit into the home, even the homes where the loved ones are away. Your store is ready, every department is ready, the personnel is relady, to serve you in every way. Let us all make this "AMERI CHRISTMAS."

Comforting Gifts of Luxurious Robes

For the woman in your life, whether she be mother, daughter, sister or sweetehart, no gift will be dearer to her than that of a luxurious robe, quilted, brushed rayon, or candlewick. We give you three here, others await your selection.

5.95

on Fourth Floor with all the many, many toys for all the good little girls and boys (games for Daddy and Mother too). There is a menagerie of soft, cuddly animals, lots and lots of adorable dolls, Oh, just everything that every boy and girl has been dreaming about all year long.

SANTA will be in Toyland on Saturday at 10 o'clock so that each little girl and boy can tell him just what they want for Christmas, what they want most of all . . . and they may receive a letter from

SANTA'S POSTOFFICE just for them. Santa has been busy making toys, but he has found time to write a letter to each girl and boy and there is a letter awaiting them in the Post Office. This letter and six cents will entitle the boy or girl to a toy (right from Santa Claus Land)

SANTA is very busy and can not be in Metzger-Wright's Toyland every day, so when Santa is not there, the boys and girls may write him a letter and bring it into Santa's Post Office and then later come in and receive a personal letter right from Santa.
